

Commercial Cleaning Service in Sydney Offers Obligation-Free Onsite Assessment

April 19, 2021

SYDNEY, NSW - April 19, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Clean Group, a Sydney-based commercial cleaning and office cleaning company, is happy to announce that they are offering an obligation-free onsite assessment. Businesses can go to their website or call them on the phone to arrange for such an assessment. They will then visit the business premises, find out what the business would like to achieve, and perform a walk-through. After that, they will establish a cleaning protocol, a specific plan and pricing, and provide the client with a comprehensive proposal.

Suji Siv, CEO and owner of Clean Group, says, "Throughout the two decades, we have been offering some of the most advanced cleaning plans in all of Sydney and the Greater New South Wales community. We work hard with our clients to find the cleaning solution that will perfectly fit their needs, budget, and schedule. We guarantee your satisfaction in a way that many of the other office cleaning Sydney businesses out there cannot."

Clean Group is owned and operated by local members of the city of Sydney and every day, they ensure that friends, community members, partners, and neighbours have the cleanest possible commercial establishments in the city. The team of cleaning professionals from the Clean Group have been trained to surpass the expectations of customers in regards to service, reliability, and quality.

According to Suji Siv, there are four possible reasons why businesses would prefer Clean Group Sydney over other providers of commercial cleaning. First is the presence of a team of reliable cleaners that customers can trust. The company only hires full-time cleaners whose backgrounds have been carefully checked before they were accepted. The cleaners also undergo comprehensive induction training and regular training sessions to make sure that all of them are the most knowledgeable and skilled in the industry.

Second is the fact that the Clean Group has 20 years of experience in providing commercial cleaning services across several industries, such as hotels, offices, medical centres, warehouses, retail chains, gyms, and more. The third possible reason is the fact they will always ensure that the package offered is appropriate for the needs and budget of the customer. And the fourth and final reason is their utilisation of environmentally friendly detergents and various supplies to reduce the impact on the environment and to decrease the health risks for people.

There are a number of important features of the commercial cleaning service that the Clean Group provides. These include: total dusting services from top to bottom in every room and every space; appropriate trash segregation; exterior cleaning and pressure washing; external and internal window and glass cleaning; professional steam cleaning of rugs, carpets, upholstery, and office partitions; stripping and sealing of floors; cleaning of the fridge and microwave; and machine floor scrubbing.

Their professional cleaners use some of the most advanced cleaning equipment. The HEPA multi-filtration vacuum cleaner can help in ensuring that the indoor air quality in the commercial building is at an acceptable level. People in the commercial building will therefore not have to breathe in dust and other contaminants in the air that can lead to asthma attacks and allergic reactions.

For faster cleaning, they also use the i-mop floor scrubber. This is an advanced cleaning tool that has twin counter-rotating brushes that have been proven to offer 90 percent cleaner floors and other surfaces. It also has colour-coded accessories to avoid cross-contamination. And its suction technology is so powerful that it can dry and clean the floor or any other surface in much less time compared to conventional cleaning equipment.

They also employ microfibre technology to reduce the amount of water and cleaning chemicals that are used up. Microfibre technology is evident in the cleaning cloths, mops and other materials that they use for cleaning. Microfibre cloths are synthetic cloths made from a combination of polyester and nylon. These have a net-like surface that can entrap more dirt and liquids, which makes them much more effective in catching dust and dirt from various surfaces. They also absorb more water compared to ordinary cloths, which means less water and cleaning solutions are used.

When in need of reliable commercial cleaning Sydney businesses can depend on the Clean Group. Those who would like to know more about their services can check out their website or contact them through the telephone or via email.
