Pure Body Naturals, a health and beauty company in Houston, TX, has recently launched an argan oil hair mask. This mask has been designed for treating the hair and scalp. It has been found to repair hair, while at the same time nourishing the scalp. Those who need more information on the product can click here.

"Hair is also known as the crowning glory," says Jonathan Stevens of Pure Body Naturals. "It is one of the most important features on men and women alike, and people want it to look good. However, the stresses of daily life and the various environmental toxins people are subjected to every day cause hair to become dry and brittle and the scalp to struggle to provide nourishment to the hair. Our argan oil hair mask has been observed to address all of these issues."

While the hair mask's main ingredient is argan oil, it also contains a number of other natural ingredients. These include shea butter, coconut oil and rosehip seed oil. Put together, these products have been found to provide a deep conditioner for the hair, helping dry and damaged hair to recover. They also help to restructure the hair shaft, supporting healthy growth. Additionally, they can help to detoxify and nourish the scalp by removing product residue build up.

The hair mask has been well received by customers, and many positive reviews have already been left by people who have tried it. "This hair mask made my hair feel really soft and hydrated, but not greasy," says Ciara Connell. "It was shiny too and I didn't want to stop touching it. Other people remarked about my hair and asked me what I did. I used to use straight unrefined coconut oil as a hair mask. This hair mask isn't as heavy and messy as that, and can be used in the shower if you want to."

The product has been observed to create a soft and silky feel to hair and only requires about 15 minutes to do its work. Some customers, however, have left the product on for several hours to enhance its effects. Customers have found that their hair looks, feels and smells beautiful afterwards.
