September 28, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Magnolia Wedding, an Italian wedding planner, has announced that they are going international and offering support in planning weddings in Italy to foreign couples from any country.

Wedding venues in Italy are planned in exclusive locations including Venice, Rome, Tuscany, Florence, and Amalfi, as well as Friuli Venezia Giulia, Puglia and other more original locations.

"Our wedding planning services are completely customized to respect our customers' lifestyles, preferences, and budget," states Livia de Vita, spokesperson for the wedding planner company. "We can ensure that you have everything you want, right down to the smallest detail."

Magnolia Wedding can assist customers in choosing a venue, as well as suppliers. "We want you to have the Italian wedding of your dreams," states Livia de Vita. "Whether you want one of our splendid Lake Garda weddings, or you want another location, or another image of what your special day should be, we will cater to your specific situation and wants."

The company provides complete start to finish wedding services, from the invitations and initial planning to sending out thank you notes. They offer translation services for those who are not fluent in Italian, but who may have a dream of being married in Italy.

Magnolia Wedding can also help customers with catering, decorations, and other services designed to provide a complete wedding planning package. The company had been working with Italian couples for many years, so company executives felt it was time to branch out and assist those from other countries who may want the beauty of Italy included in their special day.

"We know local customs, we know local vendors, and we know how to plan in the location of your choice," explains de Vita. She goes on to say that choosing a local wedding planner offers benefits for those wishing to marry in Italy because local businesses know other local businesses and can help brides and grooms to ensure that every detail is handled with care.

More about Magnolia Weddings, including a complete list of the services that they will be providing for international clients and a listing of popular wedding locations throughout Italy, can be seen on the company's official website.
