

RainTight Opens New Location in the Carolinas

April 28, 2021

April 28, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

RainTight Decks, established in O'Fallon, Missouri in 2007, has opened up a new location near Charlotte, North Carolina. The new location, managed and operated by Ken Griffin, serves customers in both North and South Carolina, including the cities of Charlotte, Raleigh, Durham, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Concord, Columbia, Rock Hill, Spartanburg, Greenville, Fayetteville, Asheville, and Chapel Hill.

The new location will offer the same exemplary services and products as the original; namely, custom-built outdoor enclosures to increase homeowners' enjoyment in their own backyards. All structures are made to measure in their facility without the use of subcontractors. All enclosures are made from high-quality aluminum that is lightweight, but durable and low-maintenance.

Customers can choose from three different options to maximize their outdoor pleasure.

1. Screenrooms are built on an existing deck, patio, or porch. They are enclosed with aluminum panels and fiberglass screens to form an enclosure that allows the breezes in and keeps the pests out.

2. Underdecking solutions will transform the wasted space beneath and above-ground deck into a dry, usable area. Use it for storage, eating, cooking, or just a shaded spot to relax and stay dry. DIY kits are also available for purchase with detailed instructions on installation.

3. Patio covers are a permanent solution to keep the patio dry and shaded so that it can be enjoyed more often with added comfort.

Homeowners in the Carolina area wanting to increase their property value, while enhancing their outdoor enjoyment, should contact RainTight of the Carolinas for a free consultation.
