April 29, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

When it comes to pests, the majority are not ideal to share a space with. Unless, of course, they're hiding out and not being a nuisance; then it's not exactly obvious that they are present. Regardless, all pest issues should be addressed. Bed Bugs No More provides bed bug services to N College Hill, OH and across Hamilton County.

"Our team of experts know exactly how to determine if bed bugs are present on your property with swiftness and efficiently. We provide free inspections for bed bugs and will check the areas you suspect or start with the bedroom(s) first. This is where they are first, but they will spread quickly if left unchecked for an extended length of time," the manager said.

The smaller the problem is the easier it is to take care of it. This saves a property owner time and money. When an infestation is present it will require multiple applications which results in more time and money to get the results you desire. Bed Bugs No More is ready and able to help eliminate these pesky bugs from properties and answers calls 24/7 to ensure they can assist in emergency situations.

"We can provide conventional bed bug treatments that consist of dusting, aerosol chemical application, liquid chemical application and vacuuming. For more serious bed bug cases heat treatment may be recommended for complete removal. Your technician will determine this after inspecting your property. Inspections are always advised and that's why we offer them for free," the manager added.

Heat treatments are a common treatment option, provided by many professionals. This method consists of heating the property to a minimum of 120 degrees Fahrenheit for 90 minutes. Bed bugs cannot withstand hot temperatures and this method effectively kills the bugs and their eggs. The manager also stated that sometimes a combination of these two methods may be the best option in particular instances.

"We also provide a 100% bed bug guarantee that we can explain in more detail should you determine that this pest is on your property. We know what it's like to share personal space with unwanted bugs and this particular bug needs to be treated immediately to avoid a very serious infestation. If you notice dark spots on your mattress or bedding, it could be the feces of bed bugs, which is blood. This is one of the most common ways to learn these bugs have invaded your space. Another way is waking up with bites but these could be from another pest,? the manager said.

The company encourages property owners to contact them right away, even if they?re not sure it?s bed bugs that are causing them trouble. They will perform an inspection regardless, and determine just what the issue is and then advise the best course of action to treat the problem.

To schedule a free bed bug inspection with Bed Bugs No More or to learn more about their services visit their website or contact them by phone. They answer calls 24 hours a day, 7 days a week so even if it?s emergency, they can be reached.
