

20/30 Wealth Trader: Review Examining Bill Poulos?

New Trading Program Released

September 22, 2015

September 22, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

20/30 Wealth Trader claims it has the potential to help people make profitable trades without actually owning any stock and by risking as little as $500. Bill Poulos has used this formula with his children, and they have been the only people to enjoy success with it, until now. This has caught the attention of ForexVestor.com's Stan Stevenson, prompting an investigative review.

Our 20/30 Wealth Trader review shows that this trading program uses a formula that utilizes different tactics such as finding small trends that occur repeatedly in the market, making a trade, and then locking in profits by exiting multiple times from one trade. It has been tested and proven to work with himself and his family, reports Stevenson. Bill only looks at 20 of the most popular stocks, and he finds about 4 potentially profitable trades each week. He promises that using his rules, losing only about 5% of your account is the worst case scenario and the best case scenario is that you make six times or more profit from your investment.

20/30 Wealth Trader includes 2 years access to Poulos' advisory service, a 30-minute quick start video training, 4 new trade recommendations per week, call and put option orders that people can use with their broker, an options trading course, a blueprint to place the recommendations from the program, 5 monthly webinars, access to support 24/7 and to the Wealth Trader website where users can check out the latest recommendations and read commentary about what is going on in the markets.

All you have to do is check your email, read the recommendations and then call your broker. You only need about 30 minutes a week to copy and paste the recommendations with your broker. This is a safer way to trade because there are no open-ended risks, says Stevenson. You could be trading and profiting quickly after you sign up for the program. Trade whenever you want to trade. You don't need to educate yourself on trading; you just need to follow Bill's steps. Get more time doing what you want to do and less time trying to figure out how to trade profitably.

Many trading systems teach you how to make money trading, but with the 20/30 Wealth Trader, you don't need to be an expert trader to profit from this. This program is a way to make an income through trading by receiving reliable alerts from a system developed to maximize profit potential. Bill is not allowing too many members in, which will help avoid moving the market through too many trades. You don't need to learn how to read charts. In fact, you don't even need to learn how this all works if you don't want to. You can simply take the alerts and call your broker to benefit from this system that offers a high probability of profit with low investment.?
