Saratoga, California - May 04, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Saratoga, CA - More than ever, patients trust Root Cause Medical Clinic as a safe alternative post-COVID-19 pandemic.

In spite of the tremendous hurdles faced by many businesses across the world during the COVID-19 pandemic, Root Cause Medical Clinic, with offices in California and Florida, has experienced a surge in growth thanks to patients seeking alternatives to conventional medicine.

Dr. Vikki Petersen, who co-founded the clinic with her husband Dr. Rick, says the boost in business and interest from patients around the country is likely driven by a major movement of patients seeking alternatives to healthcare dependent on a massive industry of drugs and surgery that can have little to no real long-term benefits.

?We started this practice because we believe the human body is incredibly powerful and can take steps to heal itself if guided down a proper path as nature intended," Dr. Vikki says. "By tapping into the tools nature has already provided us with, and that humans have been utilizing for thousands of years, our patients experience a level of care they might never have experienced at any conventional clinic or hospital."

Root Cause's mission is to provide patients with a full spectrum of services for a wide range of ailments and health objectives. From functional medicine, chiropractic, physical therapy, and nutritional guidance, every member of the Root Cause staff is dedicated to providing a full-circle experience to patients from all walks of life who are in need of reliable, safe, responsible medical help.

With locations in Saratoga, California, and Clearwater, Florida, Root Cause's clientele has grown considerably since opening its doors. The clinic also offers a fully comprehensive telecare program that is easily accessible to anyone across the U.S., and with so many word-of-mouth recommendations, it has become a defining component of the Root Cause healthcare model.

Another major draw for the clinic is the friendly, collaborative nature of its team who all share the same philosophy when it comes to addressing health concerns: natural, alternative solutions that bypass the mainstream medical-industrial complex so many patients have come to mistrust over the years. Vikki says that 2020 was one of their busiest years since opening the clinic, and 2021 is already proving to be even busier compared to the year-over-year volume of new patients and continued care for existing patients.

"We feel very honored by the many people who have put their faith in our team," Dr. Vikki says. "We will never stop delivering the best level of service possible, that is our promise. And we will certainly never stop exploring new ways to improve and expand the type of care we give."
