May 07, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Elite Air Cooling in Fort Myers FL, an air conditioning (AC) repair company, is proud to announce that they continue to get more five-star reviews. The company is family owned, completely insured and boasts of more than 25 years of combined AC repair and indoor air quality service. Their staff members specialize in all AC services, AC installations, duct cleaning. They are also capable of handling all Fort Myers Florida residential or commercial HVAC system service requirements.

In the latest five-star review from Raye R., he says, "Gus and his team were all wonderful. Gus took his time to explain things in a way I could understand and gave us options to fit our budget. They got us a new unit and up in running in one day. I would definitely recommend him and his team to anyone looking for AC services!?"

Gus Mondragon, owner of Elite Air Cooling, says, "Naturally, getting a five-star review makes us feel proud. It means that all our efforts to provide the best possible service to our customers has born fruit. It also means that we are doing things right. These reviews are a form of feedback, providing us with evidence that we are on the right track in our goal of providing the best possible customer service. We would like to express our gratitude to our customers who have taken the time to leave us a highly positive review."

With Florida's hot and humid summers, a fully functioning and efficient air conditioning system is vital. That is why Elite Air Cooling has been offering high quality cooling services for the past 25 years to residents of Southwest Florida. They are ready to replace, repair, install, and maintain various kinds of cooling systems. These include: central air conditioning systems; package air conditioner units; split systems; heat pumps; geothermal cooling units; and more. They also offer duct cleaning, sanitization, humidification control, and other services.

Elite Air Cooling wants to advise homeowners and other property owners that there are a number of signs that their air conditioner is not working properly. These include the fact that: the air conditioner is suddenly starting to produce new noises or smells; the air conditioner compressor is running constantly despite temperatures below 100 degrees Fahrenheit; the air conditioner is spewing out warm air into the room; and/or the electric bills have been unusually high despite normal usage.

Before calling Elite Air Cooling to get professional help for a possible air conditioner repair, it is important to check if the filter is not clogged; whether the air conditioner is on and is set at a temperature that will allow it to cycle; whether the thermostat is functioning properly; whether there are any disconnects; and whether there are any unusual sounds, smells, and looks.

Meanwhile, if the air conditioner is more than seven years old and major repairs are starting to become much more costly than before, it may be time to have the unit replaced. Having an old unit also means that there would be more frequent repairs and electricity costs would be higher and the unit is performing poorly when it comes to cooling the room.

Replacing an old air conditioner with a brand new unit can allow the homeowner or property owner to save money because a 10-year old unit can be as much as 60 percent less efficient compared to a new unit. But buying a bigger air conditioner is usually not recommended, unless the old unit was not the right size. An air conditioner that is too large for the room will be running short cycles but more frequently, which means that it will not be removing humidity properly, which will shorten its lifespan.

Meanwhile, having professional maintenance service provided for the air conditioner is also advisable. Allowing a professional to check the air conditioner once or twice a year will help in catching potential problems while they are still starting and can easily be fixed.
