Indianapolis Home Exterior Contractor Wins 2021 Guildmaster Award

May 14, 2021

May 14, 2021 -
Indianapolis, Indiana based exterior remodeling company JD Hostetter & Associates is excited to announce that they have been recognized among the winners of the 2021 Guildmaster award. The company, which specializes in siding, window and roof replacements as well as exterior painting, won the award for the replacement contractor category. More information about the award can be found here: https://www.guildquality.com/pro/jd-hostetter-and-associates-llc.

The primary requirement for receiving a Guildmaster Award is exemplary customer service, as demonstrated by an extremely high customer recommendation rate. In order to receive a Guildmaster Award, a member must achieve a 'Likely to Recommend' rate of 90% or greater. To determine whether or not a member qualifies for a Guildmaster Award, GuildQuality also reviews survey feedback received from all customers who were sent a survey in the previous calendar year.

Tom Pantzer of JD Hostetter & Associates says, ?Ever since JD Hostetter & Associates was founded, we have worked hard with the intention of providing the residents of Indianapolis and the surrounding areas with unmatched exterior remodeling services. Over the years, we have helped thousands of Indianapolis homeowners to choose the right options for their specific home exterior needs, personal style and budget and then executed their vision. To see our efforts recognized by GuildQuality and to be named the 2021 Guildmaster for the Replacement Contractor category is truly an honor.?

The company?s main focus is on offering a premier siding, roofing and painting service, though they do provide a range of other home exterior services. JD Hostetter & Associates asserts that once their work is done, the homeowners will be left with a superior home exterior remodel that fits their needs, style and budget.

JD Hostetter & Associates is an Elite Preferred Installer for James Hardie® fiber cement siding, and offers a variety of excellent color and style options that give homeowners a lot of flexibility as they design the home exterior they?re dreaming of. The company also offers premium vinyl siding options that feature a variety of styles and colors from top brands including Mastic and CraneBoard. JD Hostetter & Associates also promises that when it comes to painting, they use only the best products, such as PPG Porter, Benjamin Moore and Sherwin-Williams, ensuring that every house has a long-lasting, attractive paint job that adds value to the property.

The company?s roofing team is made up of highly-certified and skilled roofers who are able to tackle roofing jobs of all sizes, from simple repairs to complete replacements. JD Hostetter & Associates offers asphalt shingles from top brands like Malarkey, GAF and Owens Corning. On top of all that, the additional services provided by the company also includes custom gutter fabrication and vinyl replacement window services for homeowners who want to add some extra value to their homes.

Pantzer says, ?At JD Hostetter & Associates, our job is to take the stress out of a home exterior remodeling project by empowering you to make design choices that are right for your personal style, needs, budget and timeframe. When you hire us, you can rest assured that we will be flexible to your needs and realize your dream home with the variety of options we have on offer.?

Indianapolis residents who have taken advantage of the services provided by JD Hostetter & Associates have nothing but praise for the company, leading to the exterior remodeling company?s 5-Star rating on the Google platform. Shannon M. says in her review, ?JD Hostetter & Associates replaced some siding for us and painted the exterior of our home. We have worked with many painting companies in the past and never have had such a meticulous and respectful crew. From start to finish, everyone we came into contact with during the process went above and beyond to make sure we were satisfied. The exterior of our house looks amazing, and we highly recommend JD Hostetter & Associates.?

In another review, Brad B. shares, ?This is the second time I have used JD Hostetter as the company for our exterior home paint (about 10 years apart). Each time, they have been fantastic to work with and have done high quality work. They painted our house in August 2020, and we are very pleased with the result and the overall experience. Everyone we worked with there was helpful and responsive. That was so appreciated because we made some changes during the project, and the salesperson (Tom), foreman (David) and office manager (Gail) worked together quickly to adapt to what we wanted. We will definitely use them again.?
