Indiana based Correa's Cleaning Service is pleased to bring their leading cleaning services to customers in Indianapolis and all surrounding cities. By focusing on delivering exceptional results alongside effective and transparent customer service, the company has earned a reputation for being extremely reliable as well as easy to work with. Those interested may contact the company at their convenience to receive a free estimate.

Correa's Cleaning Service is capable of handling both residential and office environments, and their services can be broken down into two main categories: Basic Cleaning and Deep Cleaning. As the name suggests, Basic Cleaning will get a variety of items (often the ones that see the most regular use or traffic) cleaned by the company's experienced staff. Carpets will be vacuumed, floors will be swept and mopped, bins will be emptied, most surfaces will be dusted or scrubbed as necessary and so on. Notably, this service offers nearly as much as a Deep Cleaning ? which additionally covers furniture, light switches and fixtures, doors and door knobs and more. For a small fee, customers may additionally ask the company to clean inside their fridges, ovens and so on.

With flat rate pricing and a 100% satisfaction guarantee, the company offers customers the benefit of a conscientious and personalized cleaning service. Their experienced cleaning maids have also undergone comprehensive background checks, giving homeowners and businesses the reassurance they need to rely on the company completely for all their cleaning needs.

Correa's Cleaning Service is considered by many to be the best cleaning company in Indianapolis, and this is evident in the highly positive reviews they receive from their customers on a regular basis. In their top-rated Yelp review, Ryan P. shares that they believe that the company provides the, "Best house cleaning service you will find in Indiana. Ana & Eric's team are timely, professional, tactful and personable.. Oh yeah, and they're incredible at what they do. I love the feeling of having an impeccably clean home from top to bottom. I would (and have) recommend Correa's to any friends, family or otherwise.?"

A 5-Star Google review by Nina Cantafio sheds light on the company's efforts to respect the safety of both their employees as well as their customers during the Covid-19 pandemic. Social distancing is maintained at all times, for instance, and staff have implemented additional disinfecting procedures to minimize the risk of transmission. Crucially, they proudly assert that this has not led to a reduction in the quality of service they provide.

The review in question states, "We recently found Ana and her team when we relocated here to Carmel, and we couldn't be happier with their service. We initially hired them for a deep clean of a newly purchased home and were so impressed we established regular cleaning services with them. They are very professional, friendly and flexible. It's a huge help as I am currently working from home with two kids and three dogs and have little extra time to clean! We so appreciate their work ethic and being extra careful around our house with at-risk family members, and wearing masks addressing our COVID concerns.?"

Two more aspects of their services serve to reduce Covid risks as well. The company supports cashless transactions, for instance, allowing customers to make payments securely through online portals. On the other hand, they bring any and all supplies that may be needed to complete a job. Prior to the pandemic, this was simply convenient for customers who did not want to undergo the hassle of providing cleaning supplies for a necessary service. Given present circumstances, however, it also means that contact between customers and staff can be cut down to an absolute minimum. This is crucial for respecting safety guidelines while the crisis is resolved.
