May 14, 2021

Richmond, British Columbia - May 14, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vint has officially launched its first SEC-qualified collection, and shares sell out in less than an hour.

[Richmond, VA, May 11, 2021?] Vint has successfully launched the first fully transparent fine wine [and spirits] investment platform. With SEC-qualified collections and shares starting under $50, Vint's goal is to democratize fine wine investment making this high-returning asset class available and low-risk to everyone.

The first collection available to investors featured $46,000 of California cult wines consisting of expert-selected vintages of Screaming Eagle, Harlan Estate, and Opus One. On Tuesday (5/11) at 12 PM EST, one thousand shares were made available at $46 apiece, and by 1 PM, the entire collection had sold out.

Building on this success, Vint has additional collections being prepped for launch in the near future. Each future collection will provide investors an opportunity to invest in wines from different regions around the world, providing each investor a unique opportunity to build a diverse portfolio.

Following this successful launch, Vint will take this momentum to launch more collections, grow the team, and start the seed stage fundraising process. The team views this initial launch as a proof of concept and plans to further demonstrate the ability of the platform as the available collections grow and evolve.
