SafeAir Certified Mold Inspection Inc. is one of the highest-rated mold inspection and testing companies in Atlanta, GA. Jeremy Shelton and his team of certified indoor air quality experts have been serving metro Atlanta with mold testing and indoor air quality testing services for the last ten years. The company has released its latest video blog in a series of Frequently Asked Questions, in which Jeremy Shelton dives into user-submitted questions. In the newest post, Jeremy answers the question, ?Can Mold Be Completely Removed From a House??. The video and a related blog post can be found on the company?s website under the blog section.

The blog series is a bit of a passion project for Shelton, who spent years navigating a mold problem of his own before becoming a certified microbial consultant. Shelton had this to say, ?For more than a year; I struggled with headaches, dizziness, and a cough that just wouldn?t go away, only to discover the house I was living in was infested with mold. From then on, I?ve dedicated my time and business to helping others with their indoor air quality problems.?

When asked for a comment about the post, Shelton provided this quote, ?Indoor air quality is a mystery to so many people. At SafeAir, it?s our goal to educate and assist homeowners so that they may make informed decisions about their living environment. It?s my personal goal that our website be a resource to people all over the country.?

Homeowners located within Atlanta, Sandy Springs, Roswell, Marietta, and other surrounding Metro Atlanta areas suffering from toxic mold exposure are invited to speak with the SafeAir Mold Testing team to schedule a free consultation.
