

California Company Warns That Deadline Is Near On Social Media Management Services Sale

October 01, 2015

October 01, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

ProMediaAuthority, a San Diego, California based social media management company, has announced that the discount being offered on their suite of social media services will be ending soon. Andrew Stangl, company spokesperson, announced recently, "We just finished our beta testing and launch and are now celebrating by offering huge discounts on our social media services for a very limited time. But these offers expire soon."

The company is currently offering a $100 discount on any of their social media management services subscriptions for all new customers. Other discounts include 15 percent off when referring a new customer, 33 percent off when referring a second new customer, and 50 percent off when referring a third new customer. They are offering free lifetime service for any customer referring a fourth new customer.

What the company would like to emphasize is that social media management services are generally dashboards that allow businesses or individuals to manage all social media accounts from one convenient location. Aside from the usual service, ProMediaAuthority also creates and posts social content and images.

They offer an automated social media service that includes writing and posting, and subscribers can also post their own content or images as they wish. Metrics for each social account integrated into the system are also provided, which allows the user to see which posts are being clicked the most, and provides demographics for those clicking the posts. The company states that this is a time saver for businesses as well as social media managers who would spend hours compiling this information on their own.

"The public is invited to follow us on Twitter, like our Facebook page, or like and share our new YouTube video and receive a limited time offer of $100 off any of our social media packages by using Promotion Code "pmafallsocial" at checkout," explains Andrew Stangl. "We want to show people why ours is among the best social media management tools out there."

More about the company, including a complete list of the services they offer and more information about the discounts and when they end, can be seen on their official website as well as their various social media pages.
