September 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

ProMediaAuthority, a business in San Diego, CA, has released new information on why press releases are so powerful. As a company, they offer a news release service that is different from many others in the field, particularly in terms of SEO and done-for-you services. The company has also recently launched their YouTube channel and, to celebrate, is offering their press release service at a discount of 50% for a limited time only.

"The benefits of writing press releases are huge, particularly if it is done right," says Andrew Stangl from ProMediaAuthority. "We have the specialists available who can write press releases and get the information in those releases noticed by the media. Because we currently have a special offer as well, customers can notice exactly how much difference our work can make to their bottom line."

The new YouTube channel discusses the various social media services that the company offers. It also highlights the work they do on Done-For-You press releases. All clients are encouraged to visit the new YouTube channel and to give the company a like and share. From there, they can go directly to the ProMediaAuthority website to take advantage of the 50% promotion. However, this offer is for a very limited time only, so prospective clients are encouraged to get there quickly.

"Those interested in this huge savings promotion can visit our website," adds Andrew Stangl. "Clients can choose the service that best fits their particular needs and can then use promo code 'pmafallreleases' at checkout to receive a 50% discount."

It has been observed that using a press release service is a vital element of overall search engine optimization processes. ProMediaAuthority is a recognized expert in their field and has many success stories to demonstrate the capability of the service. The work they do is designed to get customers to know, like, and trust new businesses, establishing them as a household brand name. This is achieved by building strong brand awareness and interest across the public and media domain. By creating successes for their customers, they try to get more business returned to them as well.
