The well-rounded insurance company takes pride in providing a comprehensive plan for every homeowner. Their home insurance offering covers both property and liability, using a single premium covering all risks. Having home insurance can save homeowners from losses caused by many dangers, including fire, storms, burglary, and vandalism, according to Protector Insurance.

Home insurance is also known as multiple-line insurance coverage; it covers private homes. Home insurance from Protector Insurance has three levels of coverage. First is the basic coverage that can ensure its holder against loss from fire, lightning, explosion, windstorm or hail, smoke, aircraft or vehicles, riot or civil commotion, vandalism, sprinkler leakage, and even volcanic eruptions.

Another level is the broad-form coverage. It is intended for those who want added protection, particularly against losses of glass breakage, falling objects, the weight of snow or ice, water damage associated with plumbing problems, and collapse from certain specific causes.

And lastly, the special form coverage for property protection against all losses, except those specifically excluded from the policy. With its high level of protection, this type of coverage is also typically more expensive.
