Prior Lake, MN - Residential and commercial property owners alike lean on SOS Cleaning and Restoration.

When it comes to getting rid of mold, homeowners and commercial property owners throughout the Prior Lake community rely heavily on SOS Cleaning and Restoration. While there are plenty of mold removal services around Minnesota, few companies stand out like SOS. Their mold remediation services are a key component of their business, and their ability to annihilate the presence of mold no matter where it's found has led to a busy first quarter in 2021.

"As soon as mold or mildew is spotted, it's really critical to not hesitate and get the issue taken care of right away," co-owner and office manager of SOS Stacey Buckingham says. "Never let mold settle. The damage to health and property can be severe and have long term consequences that will really haunt you down the road. We have seen instances where mold has forced property owners into big repair projects, or worse, caused serious harm to the occupants of the building."

As a wife and mother (husband Mark is the other owner), Stacey feels extra responsible to clients with children and families who are at risk of mildew exposure. The practices their company has put into place for their mold removal service is as thorough as possible, and they do not stop working until their client's needs are met or exceeded.

"We don't take mold remediation lightly, and it is very satisfying walking away from a project knowing the integrity of the building and health of the occupants has been protected," Buckingham says.

Mold spores can be hard to detect depending on the layout of a room or structure, so it is important for property owners to be observant and be on the lookout for possible signs. These signs include darkened, damp discoloration along walls or ceilings, consistently damp areas around the bottom of cupboards or countertops, and may have a distinct and persistent odor. Additionally, if occupants of the property are having unexplainable reactions such as sneezing, coughing, or headaches, it could be a sign of mold spores in the air.

While the first part of 2021 has been busier than normal for SOS's mold removal service, Buckingham says they always prioritize clients who are at risk of mold because of the potential seriousness.

"Our business is built around transparency, responsiveness, and thoroughness. We get to every job site and every consultation as fast as possible, so please do not hesitate to call us if you think we can help," Buckingham says.

SOS Cleaning and Restoration offers 24/7 emergency services and is always prepared to tackle any job no matter the size or scope of the project. Those interested in learning more about the company, staff, and services, should visit the official website at <https://soscleaningandrestoration.com>.
