June 10, 2021 -
US Coachways, the premier charter bus service in the country, is offering bus rentals to Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas.

Dallas-Fort Worth is one of the fastest-growing cities in the nation. The Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex has a population of around seven and a half million people according to the 2019 census estimates making it the fourth largest in the entire country. The city is home to many tourist attractions such as the Dallas Arts District, the Cotton Bowl, and the ?Big Tex?. It sees its fair share of visitors every year as they jostle for time and space on its complex roadway system.

US Coachways recommends that anyone making their way to the metroplex for business or for pleasure should consider the lay of the land before committing to driving to the city themselves. There are a lot of traffic choke points throughout the city such as Woodall Rodgers Freeway, Stemmons Freeway, and US-75, all of which might blindside visitors who are not familiar with the congestion that the roads experience on a regular basis.

Being caught in a traffic jam or being stuck on the side of the road quizzing the GPS about the best possible roads to take while wasting precious time is not anyone?s ideal way of spending vacation time. US Coachways, therefore, recommends that those coming into Dallas-Fort Worth as a group should consider hiring one of its experienced local drivers to drive them around.

There are also a few other distinct advantages of utilizing US Coachways? Dallas bus rental services. The primary benefit is safety during the time of COVID. If traveling to the city as a group from other parts of the country, the group is most likely to take public transportation. Though the situation around the virus has dramatically improved since the start of 2021, the country is still not home-free. This means that everyone still has to be wary of traveling with strangers.

When one hires a rental bus, the group gets to control exactly who they are traveling with. There is no danger of contracting the virus from an unknown person as everybody in the group will presumably know each other. US Coachways also claims on its website that the buses are disinfected after every trip and drivers take ample precaution by using PPE (Personal Protective Equipment) and hand sanitizers all throughout the trip. US Coachways maintains that charter bus travel is one of the safest modes of travel during the pandemic.

Another benefit of traveling on a charter bus as a group is the peace of mind knowing that the driving is going to be handled by a professional with thorough knowledge of the city?s streets and traffic conditions. A professional will make sure that the group hits all the stops in the itinerary with plenty of time to spare. The driver will also be aware of the best spots to stop for a lunch break or to recharge before hitting the road again. The group will also be able to use designated HOV (High Occupancy Vehicle) lanes on the freeway that can speed up transport and help the group reach their destination quicker.

Cost savings are another distinct advantage of traveling on a charter bus. The group can usually find a charter bus rental for cheaper than the cost of fuel if the group is traveling in their own vehicles or cheaper than the cost of the group?s plane tickets if they are flying to the destination. The charter bus is also a greener way to travel as it means that the group usually has a much lesser emission footprint. Families and business groups that are concerned about the environment cannot go wrong with booking a charter bus to travel.
