Saratoga, California - June 07, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Clearwater, FL - Personalized service, unbeatable products, and dedicated staff all contribute to the growing success and happy customers.

When it comes to offering incredible alternative healthcare solutions, Root Cause Medical Clinic has become synonymous with delivering unbeatable results and quality care. The company's Clearwater, FL location has recently seen a surge in new patients, due in part to their sterling reputation, and also because of a willing public that is more open to healthcare solutions that extend beyond traditional medicine.

Drs. Vikki and Rick Petersen share more than three decades of experience in both alternative and traditional medical practice and have put their passion and expertise into building a highly successful company that Floridians from all walks of life have come to rely on.

"People always seem a little surprised by how personalized the customer experience is at Root Cause,"

Vikki says. "In order to fully provide our patients and customers with what they need to achieve their health goals, we have to spend time with them to understand what supplements to offer and build out a clear path to making sure they'll be able to reach their objective."

Vikki says they are ready to come alongside their patients every step of the way and are fully committed to providing top-level service to everyone who comes through their door.

"Alternative medicine and health practices have come a long way, and more people are ready to step away from corporate medicine and get back to healing the body as nature intended," Vikki says. "We are here to help them on that journey and we could not be more grateful for the opportunity."

Offering a full range of products that are completely GMO-free, sugar-free, gluten-free, and soy-free, Root Cause's catalogue has been painstakingly built from the ground up for patients dealing with a wide variety of issues. Anything from allergies, inflammation, trouble sleeping, or those looking for quality vitamins and daily supplements, Root Causes is recognized for its well-rounded selection for virtually any common health ailment known to man.
