

Bella Joi

Pregnancy Cream For Stretch Marks Now Non-Greasy Announces Bella Joi

September 29, 2015

September 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Earlier today, Bella Joi, an online-based beauty products company, announced that their pregnancy cream for stretch marks is not oily and greasy when applied. This is a result of Capric Triglyceride added in the mixture of various ingredients including butters and antioxidants.

"We are very proud to tell everyone that our pregnancy marks lotion that is highly recommended by users is not oily and greasy when applied to the skin. We are very much aware that one of the most common complaints about lotion is the greasy feeling that it can give", says Bella Joi spokesperson, Holly Richards. She further added, "With this in mind, the creator of the formula added an ingredient, which is Capric Triglyceride to remedy the problem. Our lotion is also easily absorbed by the skin."

This lotion has received an astounding number of good reviews from its users. In one review from Amazon by C.C, she wrote, "I gave this cream to my friend who is pregnant she's getting some red stretch marks. She's been using it for 3 weeks or so and really likes it. Her stretch marks are slowly fading away she loves that this cream isn't greasy it dries very fast when she applies it. The bottle isn't big but the cream will last you over a month depending on how often you use it, she applies it once or twice a day. She recommends Bella Joi stretch mark cream to anyone who is pregnant and is worried about those ugly stretch marks.?

Produced in a technologically-advanced US laboratory, this cream contains natural ingredients ranging from butters to antioxidants. Specifically, each bottle contains a generous amount of Mango butter, Shea butter, Cocoa butter, Olive oil, Jojoba oil, Rose Hip Seed oil and Aloe. All of these can help moisturize the skin. As mentioned earlier, the problem of greasiness during application has been remedied by adding Capric Triglyceride to the mix of ingredients. This lotion can be used not only in the abdomen, but also in the breast, thigh and even the buttocks area.

Based on the reviews, one of the standout qualities of this lotion by Bella Joi is that it does not leave a greasy feeling when applied. This may be one of the reasons why it has become very popular especially among pregnant women. It is still available online at Amazon.

###

For more information about Bella Joi Beauty, contact the company here: Bella Joi Beauty Holly Richards 877-757-5630 press@bellajoibeauty.com 31855 Date Palm Dr Cathedral City, CA 92234

Bella Joi Beauty

Bella Joi, a leader in skincare products, provides direct to customers personalized skincare solutions. All Bella Joi products serve to help improve the look and feel of a user's skin. Bella Joi recently started selling its products on Amazon.

Website: <http://bellajoibeauty.com>

Email: press@bellajoibeauty.com

Phone: 877-757-5630

Powered by PressAdvantage.com