Dependable Homebuyers says that they'll purchase homes from homeowners in Richmond, VA, giving the homeowner cash to buy a new home or pay rental costs. Also, they purchase homes as is so there are no repairs needed to be done by the homeowner prior to the purchase.

The main benefit for homeowners is that they will have more money in their pockets after this big transaction. When working with a real estate agency, homeowners typically pay a three to five percent fee for the agency's services. This means that on a home that sells for $100,000, the homeowner will lose about 3-5% of their sales price to the agency based on closing costs. Dependable Homebuyers points out that the company does not charge a fee for their services.

"Homeowners will get the entire price that they sell their homes for, putting more money in their pockets. There are no agencies to work with and no lenders," said a spokesperson for the company. "The process can be done much more quickly so homeowners will get their money faster."
