Spray Tex Painting has been providing reliable residential and commercial painting services to those in Denton, Plano, and the Dallas Metroplex since 2016. This company that was started by two University of North Texas graduates quickly made a name for themselves by offering quality interior and other home painting services. That list of superior painting services has grown to now include their reputable home exterior painting services too. This company's painting crews have the know-how and top-notch equipment available that it takes to significantly improve the exterior looks of any home.

Mason Marquis, the company co-owner, says, "What started as a labor of love for myself and co-founder Josh Angeli quickly turned into a painting company that was ready to expand after a very short time in business. This was due not only to our extensive backgrounds in this type of business but also to the meticulous way that we prep our painting jobs and then apply a smooth finished coat that will improve the looks of any interior or exterior surface and help protect it for many years to come. Right now, the warmer weather months are here and there is no better time to get an exterior home painting project completed. We are happy to visit any homeowner in our coverage area that is interested in getting exterior painting work done and do what is necessary to get their project started."

The company co-owner stated that their exterior painting jobs always start with a thorough inspection. Here they will take measurements to get an accurate account of the paint and other materials that need to be ordered for the job. This will also give them an indication of the scope of the job and what tools and equipment that they will need to bring to get it done properly. They will also supply the customer with an accurate estimate after the inspection and if that customer decided to go with Spray Tex Painting, then they will also assist them with a color consultation so they can achieve the looks that they want with the exterior of their homes or business. He added that his crews are extremely meticulous when it comes to the painting prep work and that includes sanding off any loose areas of old paint and filling cracks and holes in the siding. In most cases, if there is shutter painting involved, they will remove, paint, and then reinstall them after the siding has been painted and is dry. The company owner added that they have spared no expense with the equipment that they use and this allows them to apply paint coatings smoothly and evenly to achieve optimal coverage and looks.

Marquis added that there are more benefits to a residential customer getting exterior painting work done than just curb appeal too. This includes the fact that painting a home will help preserve its siding and protect from the sun's powerful rays and the elements. Exterior painting will also add value to a property and make a home more appealing to prospective buyers.

Those customers that have contracted with Spray Tex Painting to do their exterior painting work have expressed much satisfaction with that service. Ashley Chiechi stated, "I cannot recommend this company highly enough! Not only did they have the best prices, but they also did a fantastic job on the interior and exterior of our home! They took everything from drab and yellow to fab and modern! The employees were so professional and helpful, too! A huge thank you to Sam, Edwin, and Carlos for executing a large job seamlessly! You guys were always on time, always communicating, and always busting your butt to make our job happen when given a tight deadline! I highly recommend this company to anyone looking for a great paint job on the interior or exterior of their home. This is how every company should operate! I'll definitely use you guys for all of our future painting needs! 5 stars!"

In addition to exterior and interior home painting services, Spray Tex Painting also offers quality cabinet painting and a wide variety of commercial painting services.
