Indian Wells Named Best City In California ? Choice Destination for Retirees and Best Real Estate in California

Indian Wells, CA ? The 2020 edition of what is billed as "Among Top Places to Retire" has been released. For the fifth year in a row, Indian Wells is named the world's best city to retire in California by software company Stacker using Niche rankings, outperforming many top California cities, like Newport Beach and Tiburon ranked 2nd and 3rd, respectively.

At 44th nationally, Indian Wells is the highest-ranked California city and one of nine from the state to earn a ranking but the only one from Riverside County as reported on the Palm Springs Area Real Estate website, leading company for real estate sales in Indian Wells and all around the Palm Springs area.

Inhabitants will discover that the City is relatively quiet. This is because it is not overcrowded, and there are fewer college students, renters, and small children, all of whom may be raucous at times. Hence, this City is a superb choice for folks searching for a safe, clean, and stable location to call home.

The well-respected annual list factors in the range of items like weather, access to healthcare and restaurants, and recreation play for golf and tennis.

Indian wells place first in California because of weather ? little or no rain ? access to healthcare, restaurants, doctors, recreation play for golf and tennis, and striking landscapes. Other factors weighed included crime rates, residents 65 and older, and access to amenities like restaurants.

It's worth noting that the list is based on how each City was performing before the coronavirus pandemic took hold.

"With many changes in the workplace in 2020, many have had more choices that hadn't been considered before, like retirement. According to the software company Stacker, early retirement is looking more attractive to many who dont want to commute, and Indian Wells is among the top cities in the Palm Springs area in CA that people choose," according to the software company Stacker.

These factors and many others also not mentioned makes Indian Wells a perfect area to buy a dream home and retire.
