June 10, 2021

June 10, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Denver, CO - Denver-based High 5 Plumbing is planning to open a second location at Unit 3, 8000 South Lincoln Street, Littleton, CO 80122. The new location is south of their primary facility in Denver and will allow the popular plumbing company to dramatically improve its service area and response time for customers in and around the Littleton community. High 5 Plumbing plans to begin operating out of the new facility sometime in the middle of June.

"We are always looking for new ways to improve our services," Claire Doyle, marketing manager with High 5 Plumbing, says. "Operating out of two locations will take a lot of pressure off the team by giving us more operating room, and help us react to customer needs around Littleton so much faster than we currently are able. We have anticipated a need for additional space for a while, and this new location fits perfectly into our plans for growing the business and supporting the people who live and work here. We're very excited to see what the future has in store for the Littleton office."

Levi and Cassi Torres opened High 5 Plumbing over eight years ago, and have since grown the company into one of the leading plumbing, water heating, and drainage service providers in the region. High 5 Plumbing's world-class expertise, complete transparency, and fair pricing make them a true asset to homeowners and business owners throughout Denver and beyond, and the company continues to set new standards of excellence for the plumbing service industry in Colorado.

"We're never satisfied with simply maintaining the status quo," Doyle says. "As a team, we are always exploring new ways to improve how we operate and engage with the families and businesses within our reach. The Littleton office is a natural extension of the Torres' vision for providing for our customers in the area, and building a platform for exploring even more opportunities."
