Washington DC - Dependable Homebuyers is proud to announce that they have purchased a property in Washington DC's Penn Quarter neighborhood. The owner of a home in the Washington DC neighborhood of Penn Quarter, Washington DC contacted Dependable Homebuyers with one request - they wanted to sell their house fast. This homeowner didn?t want to make any repairs or renovations and took our cash offer instead, preferring not to have more expenses.

"We buy homes quickly so that sellers get the cash they need, without having to worry about making costly repairs or renovations," says a representative of Dependable Homebuyers.

Penn Quarter is a neighborhood at the eastern end of Downtown Washington, D.C. north of Pennsylvania Avenue, NW. Details can be found on their website. Penn Quarter is roughly equivalent to the city's downtown core prior to the 1950s as areas south and west have been further expanded in that definition since then with such places like Dupont Circle and West End coming into play more .

Penn Quarter's borders are roughly I Street NW to the west, 13th Street NW to the east, E Street NW to the south and Pennsylvania Avenue NW to the north. It is named for its location at one time in a quarter of Washington laid out by George Washington.

"Selling your house can be a bumpy journey, and that is where we step in to make the process as easy and stress-free as possible by buying and selling homes without any expensive extras," stated a representative for Dependable Homebuyers. "When you want out of a home as quickly and as easily as possible without the need for repairs or renovations, Dependable Homebuyers is your best choice."

The Penn Quarter neighborhood has undergone urban renewal over the years to ultimately create a thriving area for events. The long stretch of Pennsylvania Avenue in this district was first reclaimed by the Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation (PADC) and later, following the recession in the 1990s, by addition of commercial office buildings with residences.

Penn Quarter is an artistic and commercial center in Washington DC. The culture of the neighborhood includes art galleries, theaters, restaurants, bars, music venues and a farmers market that sell food products from all over the country. There are also several popular festivals throughout the year including Taste of DC.

Dependable Homebuyers offer a fair and reasonable price for the property owner in just 24 hours without any need for renovations or alterations, which can significantly slow down the sale. If someone is considering selling a home quickly for cash without making any expensive repairs, please give Dependable Homebuyers a call. The owner of a home in the Washington DC neighborhood of Penn Quarter contacted us because he had heard about our reputation and how we buy homes with no repair or renovation work needed.

Dependable Homebuyers specializes in buying homes quickly for sellers who want out of their property without the hassle and expense of repairing or renovating it.

The process to sell a house with the We Buy Houses company is much simpler than if one were to go with an agent or open market. "Selling takes many months while waiting for bids, but why wait when we can close in just a few weeks," the company says.

When listing with a real estate agent, many homeowners cannot find an offer within six months. Buyers often insist on reductions of the ask price in order to secure a purchase. They also frequently want repairs or renovations done while they buy.

Many homes take much longer than 6 months to sell because buyers often request lower prices and to have time for inspections One of the primary goals of any buyer is to find a home for sale with minimal imperfections that will require little-to-no renovation. Dependable Homebuyers is all about acquiring properties regardless of condition, and that?s the reason why this company has acquired thousands of houses nationwide.
