The general term ?arborist? refers to anyone who does tree work. However, the usage of this title does not specify any particular level of competency or training, and therefore it is not an official designation backed by certifications nor qualified experience levels.

In contrast, Certified Arborists are a specific group of tree workers who have undergone rigorous competency-based training in the identification and treatment of various diseases. They also know how to install appropriate pruning techniques that will promote healthy growth instead of damaging it. In addition, they are able to determine what trees need during an emergency event like a storm.

A certified arborist can determine if a tree should be secured prior to a storm that may be coming, to brace it and protect property. They can also determine what a tree may need in order to keep the tree healthy and growing strong.

It is always best to hire a certified arborist for tree care needs rather than picking a tree service company does not have certified arborists on staff. They will make sure homeowners have trees around their property that are well taken care of for many seasons to come.

Providing tree service is hazardous business and homeowners looking to save money would be wise not to think doing it themselves is the way to go. Certified arborists have the right training and skills to maintain trees in a safe manner, preventing any potential hazards.

The certified arborist can provide the tree owner with annual inspections of their trees that are tailored to meet specific needs. This includes risk assessment evaluations for things like environmental damage from storms or drought as well as pest infestation assessments such as Aphids, which are among the most destructive of tree bugs.

Certified arborists can also provide recommendations on how to prevent or deal with problems as they arise. The certified arborists at Tree Service Pro Sacramento highly trained professional who help maintain tree health and safety for the homeowner, at an affordable price.
