FruX Home and Yard, a company based in Las Vegas, NV, has revealed with pride that their wood charcuterie board set has once again garnered a five-star review from one of their customers. This cheeseboard and knife set is made of bamboo and has a slide out tray for cutlery to make sure that it is always organized and there is less risk of losing some of the items. They want to emphasize that this charcuterie board set allows anyone to make their cheese spread look like a chef made it.

A charcuterie board is a platter that contains appetizers and it is often used to impress guests during a gathering or party. Aside from various cheeses, it can be loaded with crackers, various fruits and vegetables, and various kinds of meats, which usually are cured and/or prepared meats. Pork is commonly used. It may also contain a number of sweet and savory foods, such as dried fruits, sauces, dips, nuts, chocolate, crackers, pickled or brined foods, and more.

Parties and similar gatherings often make use of appetizers while guests are waiting for the main courses to be served. Appetizers are also known as hors-d'œuvre, which obviously is French in origin. Serving appetizers started in the US and England in 1860. They may also be used as the only food offerings during a cocktail

Mike MacDonald, a representative for Frux Home and Yard, says, "This recent customer review still makes us proud even though we have received so many of these highly positive reviews. Please note that we will always make it our goal to ensure that our customers will be fully satisfied with the products that they receive from us. This charcuterie board set is truly one of our best products. It makes it easy for anyone to impress their guests, providing them with cheese spread that appears to have been arranged by a chef. Rest assured that we always stand by our products and this charcuterie board set is no exception."

This particular charcuterie board and knife set, since it is made from bamboo that has been sustainably grown, is eco-friendly, and 100 percent natural, has the advantage of being environmentally friendly. Its non-porous surface is important for cheese lovers because it means that it will not get stained nor absorb odors. The result is that it is easy to clean, ensuring that it is always ready for those times when the cheese-loving family suddenly feels the urge to enjoy their favorite food.

In the charcuterie board review by Taimi C., she gave the product a five-star rating and said, "This is an amazingly sturdy work of art. You can easily fit some of everything on here, enough for 8. Compliments for days. Great charcuterie."

This charcuterie board and knife set has a slide out tray for cutlery. This helps to ensure that the various items that make up this set will always be kept together when in storage and not in use. It can also be utilized as a meat and cheese plate for the family or it can be used to serve appetizers, including sushi, mini desserts, and sliders. It can also be a great gift for a loved one for any occasion, including an engagement, a housewarming, a bridal shower, retirement, wedding, an anniversary celebration, Valentines, birthday, Christmas, and more.

This is a large charcuterie board with a width of 13.3 inches, a height of 1.4 inches, and a length of 13.3 inches. It is provided with a surrounding carved well that can be used for nuts, fruits, and crackers. The set also contains four stainless steel cheese knives: the fork, almond, narrow plane, and chisel. The cheese knives have been designed for use for a broad range of cheeses, from soft to hard.
