

Full Spectrum CBD Sour Worm Gummies Now Available At Best Buds CBD Store

July 12, 2021

July 12, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Fort Lauderdale, FL based Best Buds CBD Store is pleased to announce the launch of a popular new product to their online CBD gummy collection: full spectrum CBD sour worm gummies. This product has done exceptionally well with customers offline, with many coming back specifically for the sour worms. The sour worms, along with an array of other CBD gummy products, can now be found and purchased through the official Best Buds CBD Store website.

According to the store, CBD (short for cannabidiol) has gained popularity across the United States in recent years. Back in 2018, new legislation was passed that made far easier to purchase CBD. There are numerous reported benefits to consuming CBD, some of which may include anxiety relief, pain relief, lower inflammation and help with sleep. Full spectrum CBD contains more than just cannabidiol, it also contains trace amounts of THC (no more than 0.3%). THC is responsible for the "high" associated with smoking marijuana. However, at 0.3% THC, it cannot produce any psychoactive effect, and this is why CBD users do not experience any intoxicating effects.

Notably, Best Buds CBD Store places a high priority on bringing top-quality CBD gummies to the market at affordable pricing. CBD can be consumed in numerous ways, and even edibles come in a wide variety, as almost anything can be infused with CBD. Steve, one of the founders of Best Buds, had this to say, "Who doesn't love candy, especially gummies? To be honest, we put such a focus on promoting gummies because we use them ourselves daily. One of my favorites is the full-spectrum CBD sour worm gummies. For me, they kind of serve as a very effective sleep agent and a tiny dessert right before I go to bed."

Each jar of full spectrum CBD gummies contains 99.99% pure CBD, according to the Best Buds CBD Store. They are also both gluten free and dairy free as well as non-GMO. Due to the store's requirements for high quality, this product is lab tested to ensure it abides by all expected standards. The store adds that each jar is made in the US, giving them the ability to oversee even more stages of the manufacturing process.

The company is aware that many of their customers approach CBD products in the same way they do, and they attribute part of their immense success in the industry to this insight. The Best Buds CBD Store understands what CBD is used for and how it can change their community's lifestyles and well being for the better. As such, the store offers a wide variety of CBD-based products in addition to sour worm gummies that aim to fill every need their customers may have.

For instance, customers who are keen to try out CBD for the first time may prefer to pick a non-edible product, such as a cream, tincture or oil ? which notably offer many of the same benefits. The store's Full Spectrum CBD Topical Cream is an excellent example of such a choice, given that studies suggest CBD creams provide relief from muscle and joint pain as well as a variety of other unwanted sensations (like nerve and jaw pain) when simply applied to the affected area. However, each individual's mileage may vary, so the store encourages newcomers to try out a variety of CBD products before settling on the one they like the most.

The store strongly recommends that those new to CBD first consult with their doctor to see if it is a good fit for their personal circumstances. Once they are sure they can proceed, any customers who are also interested in the store's sour worm gummies are welcome to visit the following link to check out one of their most popular options: <https://bestbudscbdstore.com/products/full-spectrum-cbd-sour-gummie-worms-1500mg>.

Additional information regarding CBD itself as well as each of the store's products can be found on their website and other online resources, and Justin Davenport of the Best Buds CBD Store can be reached by email or phone for further details.
