At this year?s Prosper Show the ManageByStats booth will share locality with the PPC Logic booth. MBS will be at booth 2126, near the food and networking area, directly opposite PPC Logic. PPC Logic is the ultimate ?stress-free? ad service, advertising experts working in conjunction with advanced AI to create and manage Amazon ad campaigns to achieve higher organic rankings, greater sales, and an increased bottom line, the idea being to free the user from those tasks, allowing them to focus on profitably running their business.

?PPC Logic is an amazing service,? says MBS CEO, Philip Jepsen. ?We?re happy to be at the show with them this year. Let them do the heavy lifting in running, operating, and managing the complexities of your PPC Advertising while you focus on building and operating your Amazon business.?

The PPC Logic team utilizes advanced AI-optimization technology coupled with a combined 30+ years of PPC advertising experience. Their proprietary algorithm automatically dials up advertising efforts on prioritized products, and can also buy ad placements near competitive products, fueling growth and expansion. AI plus human expertise gives PPC Logic the power to rapidly oversee the user?s entire advertising universe, selecting and adjusting keywords and campaign structures in near real-time to stay ahead of changing conditions.

ManageByStats is offering a Prosper Show Special where those planning to come to the show can get a discount on tickets using the promo code EXIV838375. For more info on the MBS software tools, services, PPC services or for any other information, contact ManageByStats directly.
