Houston, Texas based Baxter Insurance Agency, Inc. has announced that lower rates for home and auto insurance are available in the Houston area. The company, which was established in 1989, works with a number of insurance providers to help consumers lower their insurance costs for a number of coverage needs.

"As an independent agency, we are not limited to just one particular carrier," states Pam Baxter, spokesperson for the insurance agency. "We will work with clients, submitting information to a wide number of different companies, until we find them the lower rates that they want and need."

Baxter Insurance provides a number of coverage options, including Houston flood insurance. Baxter says that because they work with multiple companies, they can almost guarantee a lower rate can be found.

"You just never really know until you come by," explains Pam Baxter. "We may be able to knock a few dollars a month off your policy costs or we could potentially save you hundreds of dollars a year. It all depends on your specific needs and your situation, but we will do everything we can to lower those rates."

Baxter Insurance Agency has helped to reduce the cost of property insurance Houston residents need to get by comparing what the various insurance providers are offering. The company works with multiple companies in and around the Houston area including Texas Heritage, Safeco, National Flood Insurance Program, and Hallmark Insurance, among others.

The agency works by searching for the best rates, as well as the most comprehensive coverage, depending on the specific needs of their clients. They also offer a free no obligation quote for coverage and rates. Pam Baxter recommends that consumers call the office to schedule a quote. The company services home and automobile owners in Harris, Fort Bend, and Montgomery counties primarily, but they are not limited to any particular area, and that they have written multiple policies all over the state.

Those who are interested in getting more information about lower rates on property or car insurance Houston residents can get may visit the company on their official website and submit quote information.
