July 12, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Wickenheiser Waste is a progressive Eastern Michigan dumpster rental service that's always looking for new ways to serve its customers better. Evidence of that comes in the form of the new website it just launched. Everything about the new website is centered around convenience for its customers. That includes its customers now being able to reserve a dumpster right online.

The company owner, Chris Wickenheiser, says, "My staff and I are always looking for ways that we can improve our services. That's because in this day and age I think a company that stands still will get left behind. That's why when we saw that some areas of our website needed to be improved, we took that opportunity to design and launch a much more progressive website. We are very pleased with the way it turned out and the customers that have used it have given us very positive feedback."

Wickenheiser went on to say that his staff's many years in the waste management business provided a good source of input as to how to make the new website as informative as possible. He also gave much credit to his IT provider for creating a website design that is full of modern features. That includes the above-mentioned ability to order a dumpster rental online. Other highlight features include a simplified dropdown menu and pages that aren't cluttered up with many photos and large blocks of text. Only the pertinent information that customers need is presented concisely on each page. The black lettering on a white background also makes the text jump off the page.

The new website also does a great job of describing the types of dumpsters that the company has available for rent. This includes its smallest 10-yard dumpster that measures 12' long x 7' wide x 3 1/2' in height. It also points out that they have a 15-yard dumpster that measures 15' long x 7' wide x 4' in height and that their largest size 20-yard dumpster measures 15' long x 7' wide x 5 1/2' in height. The newly launched website also points out that each of their flat-rate dumpster rentals comes with 7-days of use and a 3-ton allotment.

Wickenheiser also mentioned that the same type of effort that they put into creating their new website, they put into everything that they do. This is how the company grew from hauling trash in a pickup truck and horse trailer to one that has the modern roll-off trucks that they use today. He added that they will continue to do whatever it takes to satisfy the dumpster rental needs of area homeowners, businesses, and contractors.

Customers have also expressed satisfaction with the dumpster rental services that Wickenhieser Waste has provided them with. Thomas Pitock stated, "Wickenheiser Waste was excellent to work with. Chris supplied me with two 20-yard dumpsters over one weekend. He accommodated delivery and pick-up to my needs and he was responsive to my calls and texts. If you're shopping around, his prices are competitive and fair and better than the quotes received from his competitors. Thanks, Chris!" Robert Campbell-Town wrote, "I am a person with high expectations, and I haven't seen anyone work as hard as Mr. Wickenheiser in a long time. I am truly blown away at how industrious and responsive he is. Whenever I needed a dumpster, he's been there for me -even when I've been between a rock and a hard place. I am so thankful that he is quick, professional, honest, and provides a valuable service for me. A job very well done!" These reviews were taken from this junk and trash removal company's Google Maps Business Listing where all 21 reviews there rate them 5 out of a possible 5-stars.
