

Resurgence Behavioral Health Announces New National Clinical Director

July 13, 2021

Costa Mesa, California - July 13, 2021 -

Resurgence Behavioral Health is pleased to announce that Jamie Littleton has accepted the position of National Clinical Director. In this role, Jamie will work closely with the company's nationwide locations to support their treatment programs and clinical teams. Jamie brings both passion and experience to this role and is excited to serve Resurgence's diverse range of clients in this new capacity. Upon accepting this role, Jamie will prioritize client care and outcomes by developing, building, and supporting Resurgence Behavioral Health's clinical teams.

Jamie brings both experience and expertise to this role. She is a graduate of California State University Fullerton and a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist (LMFT) Associate. She has worked as a clinician in both inpatient and outpatient settings, providing a dynamic range of care to support clients' individual needs. She also has considerable experience collaborating with hospitals, private care providers, and local facilities to develop robust partnerships for the care of people suffering from addiction.

Jamie served as the Director of Company Culture for Resurgence, working to develop and maintain the company's distinctive culture for empathetic care. Jamie exudes Resurgence's core values for client advocacy as well as competent support for employees. As the National Clinical Director, Jamie will use her insight, creativity, and strong work ethic to promote the company's vision for outstanding clinical performance.

Resurgence has recently expanded and has added to its leadership team to meet the changing needs of its growing client base. The company is committed to doing everything it can to support its clinics and clients. In order to meet each facility's needs, Resurgence has put together an experienced executive team that is strategically designed to nurture the company's growth and ensure its continued success in the treatment of substance addiction and mental health disorders.

Resurgence Behavioral Health is a leading provider of addiction treatment in locations across the country. It offers holistic treatment plans based on medically sanctioned therapies as well as both inpatient and outpatient programs that meet clients wherever they are on their recovery journey. Resurgence clinicians treat each client's mind, body, and spirit, providing them with the tools they need to manage their addiction for the long term.

The company requests that everyone join them in welcoming Jamie Littleton to her new position as National Clinical Director. Resurgence knows that she will excel in this role, using her talent and enthusiasm to impact the company's direction and client care.

For anyone struggling with addiction, or concerned about a loved one's substance use, Resurgence Behavioral Health is available 24/7 to answer questions and provide guidance. Call (877) 640-7820 or visit www.resurgencebehavioralhealth.com.
