July 14, 2021 -
Franklin, Tennessee ? A company that takes every necessary step to achieve maximum effectiveness, Franklin Tree Service Experts has just added a new bucket truck to its list of modern tree service gear. The new bucket truck will help accelerate the rate at which the company?s tree pruning and trimming professionals get their jobs done.

?Our company has been handling a large number of projects in Franklin City,? reported the company?s CEO, ?we realized that we needed to add a new tool to our inventory so that we can handle more projects daily. Instead of relying on manual climbing and using the traditional harnesses to stay on the tree crown during pruning and trimming, now our professionals can use the bucket truck to complete jobs faster. As an added benefit, we no longer have to hire bucket trucks, something that will help us lower our cost of pruning and trimming trees.?

A family-owned business, Franklin Tree Service Experts has been offering all types of tree-related services for more than 25 years. The company has managed to make a name for itself in Franklin and the neighboring regions for producing positive results in every project it handles. In addition to pruning and trimming trees, Franklin Tree Service Experts also handles tree removal and stump removal. Franklin Tree Service Experts has arborists who are responsible for maintaining tree health in Franklin. The arborists inspect trees showing signs of ill-health and recommend the best treatment options. ?Like us human beings, trees do come down with illnesses,? said the chief of staff, ?and when they do, they need to be seen by a doctor. Tree doctors are officially known as arborists. In addition to having years of field experience, our arborists have received certification from ISA (International Society of Arboriculture).?

Franklin Tree Service Experts works on both commercial and residential properties. The company?s professionals indicate that they understand different property owners have different needs. For this reason, they always take their time to listen to the customer?s needs before getting started with a tree care procedure.

Franklin Tree Service Experts is located at 130 Seaboard Ln, Franklin, TN 37067, United States. For inquiries, those interested can contact the company?s customer support department by calling 615-551-0754.
