

Datesofasia.com Announces Performance Enhancements on Their Website

November 10, 2014

November 10, 2014 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Manila, Philippines: Dates of Asia is happy to announce the newest improvements to their free dating site, www.datesofasia.com. These new improvements will enhance the user experience through an increased performance platform. With new site organization and layout enhancements, site users will be able to find information more easily, giving them more time to dedicate to finding a compatible match.

The new site improvements are available to users that provides a quality enhanced dating site in Asia. With a reader-friendly site and fresh new content, users of Dates of Asia will find a much more responsive site than before. Improvements include a new layout design that shows conversation lists that are displayed on the right of the application, making conversations with other users easy to find. This also allows users to see when sent messages are read by the receiver. Datesofasia.com gives users a safe and friendly environment to meet new people from Asia and around the world.

Enhancements to the Dates of Asia website were motivated by a desire to create a more user friendly environment. This makes each member's experience more personal, and allows members to build long-lasting friendships and relationships. Dates of Asia gives users the tools to find genuine connections that make them happy. The new updates will also increase accessibility through both desktop and mobile platforms, giving users the ability to chat and explore, wherever their location. Users will still be able to use the existing features, including the ability to search for compatible members, explore profiles and the ability to create a personalized profile that fits user needs.

With a team of dedicated professionals, the new performance enhancements ensure that every user is able to make the best of their time when using the website. These improvements will help users and browsers explore the site easier while making conversations more accessible and user friendly. Dates of Asia understands the desire to make a meaningful connection, and they remain committed to the goal of helping people find genuine matches. The newest updates and site enhancements will allow Dates of Asia to continue their mission of providing users a lasting way to find quality relationships.
