Playtime Gadgets has announced that Bob Tobias has given the Austin, Texas based company's All-Weather Photo Wetsuit a five star video review, which is something that is very rare and very coveted among Amazon sellers. Bob Tobias is currently the third most respected and most popular reviewer on the Amazon marketplace. He offers reviews for a number of gadgets, and consumers tend to trust his opinion, partly because he was recently featured on ABC Nightline as a top product reviewer. He gained status as one of Amazon's elite reviewers after reviewing hundreds of different products over the course of a few years, sometimes as many as 30 products in a week.

"We were blown away," states Daniel Hall, spokesperson for Playtime Gadgets. "I mean, here's this guy who is practically a celebrity, and he's giving us this great review."

In the waterproof iphone case 5 star review, Tobias states, "It looks the same as others available for less money. However, with this package you get a ton of instructional material that teaches you how to take better pictures and make sure you don't ruin your phone in the process."

The Playtime Gadgets All-Weather Photo Wetsuit has been designed to fit iPhone 5, 5C, 5S, and 6 as well as the Galaxy S6 and the Edge S4 and S5. It is IPX8 certified waterproof, and converts the smartphone into an underwater camera, guaranteed to protect it from water damage. The case comes with a photography training DVD for underwater picture taking and a laminated quick reference guide.

Tobias' waterproof smartphone case video review has definitely been cause for celebration for the case manufacturer. Top reviewers on Amazon have more influence on consumers, meaning that those receiving five star reviews are much more likely to sell products than products that receive four or less stars. Tobias' opinions are respected throughout the Amazon marketplace, as well as other platforms, and his video details exactly why he offered the smartphone underwater case such a winning review. He points out that all the extras that come with the case make it very worthy of the review that he gave, in addition to the quality of the case itself.
