Stockton, California ? A company that has always promised its customers zero losses during tree maintenance, Stockton Tree Experts has made true its promises by replacing a fence that got damage during large tree removal.

Garrett Spikes, the property owner whose fence Stockton Tree Experts fixed, had this to say about the tree service company, ?We've had them out to do tree work twice and have been very happy with their work. When removing a very large tree they did accidentally damage our new fence, but then they immediately notified me, quickly repaired it, and contacted the fencing company to ensure they matched the stain correctly. How a company responds to problems speaks volumes.?
