July 26, 2021 -
Destination Paradise has released a video titled ?Portugal 4K Relaxation Film? on its Youtube channel. The video takes a look at some of the most interesting sights in the country and pairs the video clips with calm music, making for a soothing and meditative experience.

Portugal is the westernmost country in Europe and it only shares a land border with Spain. The country is one of the oldest nation-states in Europe. The land has been visited by or conquered by many great civilizations of the past such as the Celtics, the Greeks, the Phoenicians-Carthaginians, the Romans, and the Germanic tribes. The kingdom of Portugal was established in the 12th century. Later, in the 15th and 16th centuries, the country was the first to establish an empire on the back of its strong maritime capabilities and robust commerce.

Portuguese explorers are known to have set sail to faraway lands discovering what would later become Brazil, and then set up routes that allowed them to monopolize the spice trade. However, the country slowly lost its once opulent influence at the hands of natural tragedies and invading forces. Though the country is no longer as prominent as it once was on the world stage, it has left an indelible mark on culture, architecture, and language. Today, the country boasts of an advanced economy with a high standard of living.

The video from Destination Paradise showcases popular, often visited locations from the country such as Prainha in Alvor, Lisbon, Porto Oporto city, Formosa lagoon, Gafanha da Encarnação beach, Azores island cliffs, Ponta Delgada island, Marques de Pombal Square, Dom Luiz bridge, Praia Grande beach, Praia da Foz do Arelho, Algarve, Cabo do Paco Lighthouse, Forte Pessegueiro, Sines, Castle of the Moors in Sintra, Peniche village, the monument of King Peter IV and Porto city hall, Albufeira, Sao Miguel Island, Azores archipelagos, Villamoura, Vasco Da Gama Bridge In Lisbon, Batata beach in Lagos, Comercio Square and Rua Augusta Arch in Lisbon, Castle of St. George, Palacio da Bolsa or Stock Exchange Building In Porto, Praia do Burgau, Budens, Suspension Bridge over the Tagus river, Porto Douro River and Arrabida Bridge, Belem Tower in Lisbon, Rua Augusta in Lisbon, Pena Palace in Sintra, Praia da Adraga beach, Sesimbra, Museum of Art Architecture and Technology In Lisbon, Castelo dos Mouros in Sintra, Trindade Church In Porto, Commerce Square in Lisbon, Nossa Senhora da Nazare sanctuary, Lisbon Oceanarium, Baleal, Cascais, Pico do Arieiro, Madeira, and many more.

The video takes its time to entrench the viewer in the rich natural landscapes and historical architecture that the country has to offer. The video features aerial drone shots and time-lapse shots of nature interspersed with manmade tourist attractions such as rivers, lagoons, town centers, beautiful shores, sandy beaches, rocky coastlines, rough, rugged cliffs, castles, promenades, churches, lighthouses, archipelagoes, and many other visually captivating places that one would want to visit.

The best time to visit Portugal is in spring as the winter is subsiding and nature is blooming back to its former glory. Those who are not able to find time during the spring months can take heart that, since the country has a temperate climate, any time of the year is comfortable enough to plan a trip to the nation. Those visiting in summer can enjoy the warmer water on its beaches, a vacation spot that exemplifies the benefits of the famed southern European climate. Those who visit during fall can enjoy sparser crowds and get to soak in the natural landscape on a more intimate level.

The video from Destination Paradise has over 7500 views that it has garnered in just two months since its release. The video has plenty of thankful comments from viewers who were impressed with the audiovisual spectacle and were itching for more such content. Destination Paradise has posted many more such nature relaxation videos featuring other locations from all around the world such as Africa, New York, Texas, The Maldives, and others on its Youtube channel.
