July 28, 2021 -
Emergency Dentist - Dental Clinic and Implant Centre is offering a full range of dental services in Central London and surrounding areas.

A spokesperson for the clinic, Greg Murray, talks about its services by saying, ?Dental emergencies don?t come knocking and they always seem to strike at the most inopportune times. A toothache is one of the most unbearable types of pain that one can experience. Those suffering from infected or decayed teeth can become utterly incapacitated by the sudden pangs caused by the flaring up of the sensitive nerve endings of the teeth. The only way to assuage the pain is to seek urgent medical help from a qualified dentist. Often, this can be a difficult endeavor as most dental clinics don?t offer 24-hour services. That is where Emergency Dentist - Dental Clinic and Implant Centre comes through with its promise of providing immediate and suitable solutions to any dental emergencies. Our staff is stacked with oral surgeons, general & cosmetic dentists, and orthodontists that are ready to tackle your problem at the drop of a hat. We have designed our facilities and services such that you will never be left wanting dental help when you need it the most. We are here to make sure that you leave your pain behind and are able to resume your daily activities with renewed vigor. So if you are looking for an emergency dentist in London, call us today and you will find out why so many of our patients trust us so much and heartily recommend our services.?

The clinic offers a range of dental services such as general dentistry, cosmetic dentistry, dental implants, and orthodontics to patients who need them urgently. Its full list of services includes emergency root canal treatments, wisdom tooth extraction, dental (porcelain) veneers, dental crowns, dental bridges, dental extractions, invisible (white) fillings, teeth whitening, gingival bleaching and surgery, teeth cleaning, dental implants, root resections, gum grafting, bone grafting, dentures, overdentures, all-on-four dentures, braces, and Invisalign.

The clinic?s emergency root canal treatments can help patients who are suffering from a tooth that is infected or badly decayed. The infection in a tooth directly affects its nerve endings leading to intense and debilitating pain. During a root canal, the nerve and pulp are removed and the inside of the tooth is cleaned and sealed. A few sure signs that a tooth may need root canal treatment are that the tooth hurts when one tries to bite down on it or push on it, the tooth is sensitive to heat or to cold for more than a couple of seconds, there is swelling near the tooth, the tooth is discolored, or if the tooth is broken.

Wisdom teeth extraction is another emergency procedure that can be a lifesaver for someone who is suffering from them. Wisdom teeth are located in the four corners of the mouth, to the rear. They emerge around age 20 and may be affected with pain, infection, and swelling. A wisdom tooth extraction is generally carried out under local anesthetic and the wound is closed with stitches once done. The stitches are usually removed within a week.

The clinic is open from early morning to late in the evening, every day of the week, and is even open on bank holidays such as Easter, New Year?s Day, Christmas, and more. The dentists at the clinic are multilingual and they can accommodate Hungarian, Italian, Serbian, Russian, Greek, and Polish-speaking patients with ease. The accessibility for those who don?t speak English fluently extends to the clinic?s helpline as those that dial its emergency number will be greeted by multilingual customer service.

The clinic is located at 8F Gilbert Place, Bloomsbury (British Museum), London, WC1A 2JD. The clinic can be accessed from the London Tube stations of Holborn Station (Central line, Piccadilly line) and Tottenham Court Road Station (Central line, Northern Line). Readers can contact the clinic at the phone number 020 3199 6234 or at the email address greg.murray@emergencydentistin.london.
