DenadaDance, a Minden, Nevada based company, has announced that their original toe stretchers have received an upgrade. Elena Vera, spokesperson for the company, commented on the improvements. She states, "We've made some changes that we believe are going to make our toe stretchers much more unique and beneficial. The first thing we did was space the toes a bit further apart."

The spacers between the toes have been made wider than they were in the original stretchers with the goal of providing a better stretch for toe muscles and ligaments. The DenadaDance toe stretchers are designed to help straighten and realign toes, and to aid in circulation. In addition to their new design, the stretchers also come with a free eBook on proper foot care. Elena Vera has pointed out that the newly designed stretchers are recommended by doctors for alleviating pain related to bunions, plantar fasciitis, and crowded or misshapen toes.

The new design features a hypoallergenic material that is latex free, and flexible to increase the benefits of using a toe stretcher. Elena Vera also revealed that the new toe stretchers will be available in three additional colors, particularly pink, green, and dark blue. These colors are to be added to the original color, which is light blue.

"We thought that adding more choices would be a great way to offer a wider selection," explains Elena Vera. "Our colourful toe stretchers now come in four choices as opposed to just the one original choice, which gives our customers a better selection."

DenadaDance provides a wide selection of products designed for foot care. The company specializes in foot care products for dancers, but claims that their products can be used by anyone who may have issues with the feet during workouts and other activities. Products are designed to help both dancers and non-dancers to achieve higher levels of comfort, allowing them to avoid toe and foot pain after doing regular activities.

More about DenadaDance can be seen on the company's official website. Those interested in learning more about the newly designed stretchers can visit the company's seller's page on the Amazon marketplace.
