Casselberry, Florida based Miracle In The Green is reaching out to the wider community to share that they are preparing for a big summer program. Miracle In The Green is a leading Moringa brand, founded to spread wellness among their community. More information about their products and services can be found at their website.

Lindsey Smith, a representative for Miracle In The Green, says, ?We?re very excited to say that we have something up our sleeves for this summer season ? a big program that has been in the making for a while, something that we?re specially brewing just for our loyal customers and for all the people who are willing to join our big project. Stay in the loop with us and watch out for our big launch.?

Miracle In The Green creates health and wellness products in several diverse categories, including baby skincare, mummy skincare, beauty and health. The company?s secret ingredient is Moringa, a plant with a wide range of medicinal benefits and reliable growth that have made it popular across several continents.

Moringa has many names: drumstick tree, miracle plant, horseradish tree, malunggay, God's Gift to Man, Savior of the Poor, ben oil tree and benzolive tree. In East Africa, it's known as Mother's Best Friend; in India, it goes by murungia (Tamil) and muringa (Malayalam); and in Nigeria, ewe lle (Yoruba) and zogale (Hausa).

This miracle plant is widely regarded as one of the most nutrient-dense plants across the entire planet, and it is what Miracle In The Green uses in all their products.

Miracle in the Green incorporates 100% USDA Approved Organic Moringa into their beauty and health products for the whole family. Moringa boosts the intake of antioxidants, vitamin A, vitamin C, vitamin B2, vitamin b3, iron, amino acids, calcium and magnesium. It yields a high vitamin-rich content that no other plant or vegetable can produce in one serving. While it can serve as a great supplement to a diet, it can do so much more ? helping with hair growth and maintenance, skincare, immunity and so on.

The company is committed to the sustainability and environmental impact of their wellness, baby and beauty products, which are all made from renewable resources found in plant-derived ingredients. Miracle In The Green emphasizes that they are very particular about the recyclability of the components they use for packaging, for instance, and the company is committed to pursuing innovative processes and overall progress in the green industry. Their mission is to use these earth conscious products in empowering women, men and children, to pave the way for a healthier, happier future. More information can be found in the company?s blogs.

Miracle In The Green is the result of Founder and CEO Ify Nwobi?s passion and desire to help others the same way Moringa helped her. When she was in her final year of law school, she was diagnosed with cancer. Her energy levels plummeted during treatment, so much so that she considered postponing school. However, she was determined to keep striving for both her health and her dreams. Nwobi sought alternative ways to reclaim her energy, and she found it in an unexpected care package from her parents in Nigeria: an herb called Moringa Oleifera. She emerged from this experience with a new resolve and sense of purpose: to provide those who need it with access to the highest quality, affordable and reliable Moringa Powder for energy and vitality.

Smith says, ?At Miracle In The Green, our goal is not just to help people on their health journey ? we also want to connect with you. This is why we?re always brainstorming and working on new ideas to help our consumers and other people in more than just their health and wellness. Our big summer project, I believe, will be a wonderful way for us to reach out to both our customers and others and do something wonderful.?
