Rancho Mirage Budding Community

July 26th 2021: Rancho Mirage, CA ? Determining where to reside could be an arduous task, with several factors playing a pivotal position in the decision-making process. As such, a community that continues to pursue its growth and expansion actively is definitely worth giving considerable consideration.

Described as a place where "luxurious lifestyle meets a playful landscape," Rancho Mirage, which is situated in the Coachella Valley of California, and with its proximity to Palm Springs, Palm Desert and Cathedral City, posits a fantastic choice for not just adventurous home seekers but also those who would like to reside in a progressive and caring city.

In living up to this billing, the city has seen its Betty Ford Center recently announcing that they are expanding their facilities which will enable the facility to add more residential beds to treat more patients with addiction and mental health issues.

Currently, the center has limited residential beds to treat patients with addiction and mental health; hence this project portrays a community that emphasizes sound health, among other community-driven projects ongoing in the city.

The new facility will be equipped with state of the art three new buildings and other updates on the ground, which will transform the campus of the treatment center founded by former First Lady Betty Ford and former U.S. Ambassador Leonard Firestone in 1982, enabling it to meet the increasing demand for services, respond to evolving needs and help more people," according to a release explaining the project costing $30 million for four years.

Rancho Mirage has several other attractions such as the Agua Caliente Casino, Omni Rancho Las Palmas Resort and Spa, The Cheesecake Factory, The Living Desert Zoo and Botanical Garden etc. that make for good, cozy, small yet gigantic strides. The city is ideal for families as there is a variety of activities for every age group.

Betty Ford Center is a highly gated-estate city. A pointer to the upper-class status of the vast majority of the residents.
