July 29, 2021

July 29, 2021 -

Roof Works, New Jersey-based roofing company, is pleased to announce the expansion of its commercial division in Jackson Township. The Jackson Township's economy continues to boom, giving rise to many new commercial properties and buildings surfacing in the region. It has corresponded with the surge in demand for commercial roofing services to ensure robust safety for the commercial properties and people working there. As the area is known to witness storms, high-speed winds, and hail storms frequently, professional commercial roofing services' assistance is necessary to mitigate loss suffered due to leaks and roof damage.

Roof Works has been flooded by requests from property managers and commercial building owners requesting various commercial roofing services, including commercial flat roofing, commercial roof replacement, commercial storm damage, commercial roof coatings, EPDM roofing, commercial metal roofing, and more. Good upkeep and health of a commercial roof are important for the business. A damaged roof can put business operations and the employees at risk, not to mention the negative impact in terms of monetary loss and business reputation.

When the roof of a commercial building roof malfunctions or gets damaged, which is a fairly common occurrence, it is important to take corrective measures promptly. Expanding the commercial division in Jackson Township would allow Roof Works to operate at maximum efficiency by reducing response time and quickly dispatch emergency roofing teams during storms to businesses in the region on short notice.

Regarded as the top commercial roofing service provider in the area, Roof Works has a team of experienced, licensed, insured, and bonded roofing technicians. The company offers lifetime warranties and has financing offers available for commercial space owners. It has helped Roof Works become a leading name in the commercial roofing space, and this newly announced expansion is yet another feather in the company's cap. The expansion resulted from the last summer's storm season for commercial establishments or residential properties.

Roof Work's new location in Jackson Township would not only enhance the accessibility, but bridge the gap between the company and the customers. It is one of the predominant factors that contributed to the decision of expansion. Staying close to the commercial clients ensures better communication, better services, reduced operational cost, and helps the company assure complete customer satisfaction. Any calls for inspection, damage, or leakage can be quickly serviced, potentially saving commercial facilities tons of money in damage.

"When it comes to serving our clients, be it commercial or residential clients, we don't cut corners. Our primary aim was, is, and would always be to strive for excellence in delivering top-notch roofing services, which not only look aesthetically appealing but is durable and lasts long. Roof Works offer lifetime warranties on all roofing materials and services, and the services are performed by licensed and insured roofing technicians with years of training and experience," says Sean Kelly from Roof Works.
