August 05, 2021

Okeechobee, Florida - August 05, 2021 -

Ultimate Flags, an internet-based company that provides a unique selection of patriotic flags and banners, is no stranger when it comes to getting reviews that praise the quality of its products and customer service. Many of these glowing Ultimate Flags reviews have been posted to their Google Maps listing where the company boasts having a very credible 4.8 out of a possible 5-star average rating on over 50 reviews. This Okeechobee, FL-based company also wanted to celebrate several new 5-star reviews that were left on its Better Business Bureau listing. Something worth noting because the BBB is a business watchdog service that goes to great lengths to make sure that the reviews left on its website are legitimate.

Some of these new BBB listing reviews are very simply stated such as this one by Greg L which proclaims, "Very professional, great communication, very fast shipping, great selection of flags and sundry other items. A pleasure to do business with!" and another by Greg L who declared, "Great products, Good Company, and the best customer service I've had in a long time."

Others such as Timothy K were so thankful for the service they received from Ultimate Flags that they took the time to post a lengthier review. Timothy K wrote, "I recently found this American owned, and family operated business, and have placed three orders in the past couple of weeks. The flags and hats I ordered were all of high quality, and the orders were processed, shipped, and received in days. As good as the products were, I was even more impressed with their customer service. I called with a question, and it was answered immediately. I can't wait to share this unique business with family, friends, and coworkers." Hester M stated, "Doing business with ultimate is great. Almost always in stock. The best selection of Rebel/Confederate flags I have seen anywhere. They make custom flags as well. Great products and excellent customer service." There are 15 reviews in all on the company's Better Business Bureau listing and every review rated this company a perfect 5 out of a possible 5-stars.

"Getting any 5-star review means a lot to us because this shows that the effort that we take to provide quality products combined with exceptional service is giving our customers a good buyer experience, says the company's spokeswoman, Jonica Hough. "These new 5-star reviews from our BBB listing take that feeling of pride in our work to an even higher level. This is because of how serious this service is when it comes to making sure reviews are from actual customers."

Hough went on to talk about another source of pride for the company which is that they support several veterans and armed forces groups. In order to see what Ultimate Flags supports, she highlighted a recent press release on Yahoo news. An example of the company's good works in this respect is its donation of flags to the Sacred Mountain Retreat Center. This is a reputable non-profit organization whose mission is to provide help for veterans and emergency workers. The Yahoo news story also mentioned how the company sent a care package with goodies and also included American flags to an unknown US Marine Corps location abroad to help keep a special task force safe and help maintain their morale at a high level.

According to Hough, they offer a wide variety of flags, banners, and other patriotic products. The most popular of which are centered on people's pride in the American flag. They also offer collections that support 2nd amendment rights and represent numerous branches of the military along with being able to offer their customers custom flag-making options. Hough also wanted to remind customers that they can get an even better feel for their products and what the company is all about if they visit their YouTube Page. The highlight of which is the inspiring stories that their videos tell about America's heroes throughout the ages. There are also posted videos that show the company receiving praise from various military branches for the patriotic products and services that it provides.
