Dallas, Texas - August 06, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Widdlytinks, an online seller of distinctive canvas wall art, has some interesting Halloween decoration ideas. This comes in the form of its creative and somewhat scary Halloween Wall Art Collection. It can help provide the perfect backdrop for those that want to transform some of the rooms in their home in a way that helps those rooms better capture the spirit of the occasion. The company's Halloween Wall Art Collection is a seasonal offering that continues to grow in popularity as Widdlytinks adds some new unique and creative art prints to it every year.

The company spokesperson, Amy Anderson, says, "One of our favorite collections here at Widdlytinks is our Halloween Wall Art Collection. That's because it's a collection that allows us to let down our hair a little bit and have some fun right along with our customers. Our design team and award-winning artist have come up with a Halloween art collection that when combined with a skeleton wall hanging, pumpkin candy bowl, and other spooky decor will help set the tone for any Halloween-themed room."

Anderson went on to give some examples of their Halloween canvas art prints that help people set the mood for one of the most fun nights of the year. One of the most popular of which is the company's spooky Anatomical Skeleton Vintage Halloween Art. Its neutral color scheme and slightly distressed look will make it stand out on any wall it's placed on. There are also several Halloween apothecary and witch-themed signs to go along with such occasion setting wall art such as their Spooky Old Salem Cemetery and Spooky Haunted House Halloween Signs. She also talked about how all of their wall art prints, including those in the Halloween Wall Art Collection, are placed on thick, pH neutral, and acid-free archival grade poly-cotton blend canvas for durability and to help keep them from yellowing. Each print also has added dried pine stretcher bars to help prevent the frame from warping. Their wall art is ready to hang too thanks to their attached sawtooth hanger.

The company spokesperson also talked about how the Halloween signs by Widdlytinks are not their only seasonal or special-themed wall art collection. They also have very popular Christmas signs, Valentine's Day gift art, Spring & Easter wall art, and a Christian-themed art collection. She also brought up how personalized canvas wall art is a versatile option that when placed on a blank wall can change the look and feel of any type of room. Personalization also makes the company's custom wall art suitable for housewarming, wedding, and other types of sentimental gift-giving where a personalized piece of art even has a chance to become a keepsake. Their personalized art collections often include a family name, individual names, year established for families as well as some that allow for state and city customizations. Other popular collections that Widdlytinks offers include large farmhouse wall art, last name and family name personalized wall signs, rustic wall signs, modern industrial wall signs, vintage style collections, and the company's highly popular rustic farmhouse décor.

Anderson also stated that their wall art collections come in a wide variety of unique designs and all different sizes including large formats. Their designs are all created with care and attention to detail using the highly-trained eye of an award-winning artist that has over 20 years of experience working with the art niches that their collections are available in. That is what makes all of Widdlytinks artwork so distinctive and exclusive. She says they also take pride in the fact that most of their wall art prints are versatile enough that they can be used in both home and business settings. They offer their wall art directly to the public via their website and it can be delivered to all fifty states 100% free of charge. The company spokesperson mentioned that the company's products are designed and manufactured in the USA and are only for sale within the United States. For more information and to see photos of the wall art by Widdlytinks, Anderson invited those that are interested to visit their website.
