New Jersey -- For over twenty years, New Jersey guardianship attorneys at Matus Law Group have represented clients with estate planning and special needs planning. Christine Matus, along with her team, has always taken an interest in the families and communities they work with and provided a caring and unique approach to legacy and estate planning.

"We are blessed with a dedicated group at Matus Law Group. It's not just a profession, but a passion. Our life's work, we believe, is to protect families and their loved ones' futures. We are passionate about what our team does every day," said the guardianship attorney. "We believe we do more than most people expect from their attorneys, and that has led to something very special at Matus Law Group."

Ms. Matus is the founder of the law firm and has a special connection to the special needs community. Ms. Matus is the mother of a Down syndrome child and has dedicated a lot of her practice to special-needs families and their specific estate planning and financial needs. Ms. Matus also helps to educate the public about resources and offers education and pertinent information regarding the special needs area that families may be able to use. She is a skilled estate planning lawyer who provides vital information on estate and financial planning for special needs families so they can be less worried about their loved ones' future.

Matus Law Firm works with regional experts to provide free information and webinars to the public on financial resources, estate planning, and what the future holds. With an Avvo Rating rating of 10.0, the firm has been featured on the Law Firm 500 every year for the past three decades. They continue to receive praises, positive reviews, and testimonials from their customers.

Susan Schroeder Clark from New Jersey states: "Christine Matus Law Group is an excellent law firm. We are so impressed with how responsive and professional the team is with clients. We do not hesitate to refer her law firm on matters involving special needs planning."

Matus Law Group is dedicated to making a positive difference in the lives of the people we serve. We work together and treat our clients like family. Ms. Matus said that each member of the office is a wealth of knowledge and has the empathy and understanding to provide personalized and mindful care to clients. "We value our clients as much as we value ourselves, and it shows in the representations we can offer and the ongoing relationships we build with the families and the community.

Individuals and families seek out those who are compassionate and have the ability to provide legal knowledge and skill when it comes to estate planning and planning for the future. Christine Matus and the Matus Law Group's gifted team of estate planning attorneys are proud of their ability to accomplish this goal and make a positive difference in their clients' lives.
