New Jersey -- For over two decades, the New Jersey wills attorneys at the Matus Law Group have been representing families in matters of estate planning, special needs planning, elder law, asset protection, and real estate law. Over the years, Christine Matus and her team have taken a particular interest in the families with whom they work and the community, offering a unique and thoughtful approach to estate and legacy planning.

"We have a team of really dedicated people at The Matus Law Group. It is not simply an occupation but a passion for all of us. Our life's work is to help people protect their future and the future of their loved ones, and we are enthusiastic about what we do here each day," said the wills attorney. "We believe that we exceed what many people anticipate from their lawyers and, because of this, we have produced something very unique at The Matus Law Group."

Ms. Matus, the founding attorney of the law firm, has a unique connection with the special needs community. Ms. Matus is the parent of a child with Down syndrome and has committed a big part of her practice to special needs families and their particular financial and estate planning needs. She helps educate the public about brand-new resources and provides education and information in the unique needs arena that households might be able to use. As a gifted estate planning attorney, she offers critical information about monetary and estate preparation for special needs families so that they can have peace of mind about their loved one's future.

The Matus Law Firm partners with other local specialists in order to provide free information and online webinars to inform the public about finances, estate preparation, and what to anticipate for the future. The firm consistently wins honors and awards with an Avvo Rating of 10.0 and has actually appeared on the Law Firm 500 for the previous 3 years. Their customers continue to provide praise, favorable reviews, and testimonials concerning their services.

Kevin Stankowitz from New Jersey states: "I?ve had the pleasure of working with Christine on several recent cases and she has done a terrific job for our mutual clients."

"At the Matus Law Group, we are committed to making a difference in our community and to the families and individuals that we represent. We take a team effort approach and we treat our clients like family members. Each member of the office has their own wealth of understanding that they draw from and have the compassion and understanding that it takes to really offer attentive and customized care to our clients," said Ms. Matus. "We appreciate our customers as much as they appreciate us, and I think it shows in both the representation we offer and the continuing relationships we develop with the households and the community."

When it concerns matters of estate preparation and preparation for the future, families, and individuals rely on those who can provide compassion in addition to legal skill and understanding. Christine Matus, and the talented team of estate preparation attorneys at the Matus Law Group, pride themselves on their ability to do this and to make a difference in the lives of their customers.
