New Jersey -- The Matus Law Group has been representing New Jersey families for over 20 years in estate planning, special need planning, elder planning, and asset protection matters. Christine Matus and her team have been devoted to the communities they serve, taking a special interest in their families and providing a caring approach to legacy planning and estate planning.

"We are fortunate to have such a dedicated group of employees at Matus Law Group. It's not just a job, but a passion." The estate planning attorney stated that their life's work is to protect families and their loved ones. "We are passionate about what we do every day here. We believe we do more than what most people expect from their lawyers, and that is why we have created something special at Matus Law Group."

Ms. Matus is the founder of the firm and has a special connection to the special needs community. Ms. Matus is the mother of a Down syndrome child and has dedicated a large portion of her practice towards special needs families, their estate planning, and financial needs. Ms. Matus also helps families find information and education in the special needs area. She is a skilled estate planning attorney and can provide vital information to families about estate and monetary planning for special needs households, so they can feel confident about their loved one's future.

Matus Law Firm works with regional professionals to offer free information and webinars online to educate the public about finances, estate planning, and what the future holds. With an Avvo Rating 10.0, the firm has won numerous honors and awards and appeared on the Law Firm 500 every year for the last three years. They continue to receive praises, positive testimonials, and reviews from their customers regarding their services.

Lina Ding from New Jersey states: "I was put at ease by my attorney and she was great at answering all my questions. Everyone in the office is very kind and considerate."

Matus Law Group is committed to making a positive difference in the lives of the people and households we serve. We work together and treat our clients like family. Ms. Matus said that each member of the office is a wealth of knowledge and has the compassion and understanding to provide personalized and attentive care to clients. "We value our customers as much and as deeply as they appreciate us. I believe it shows in the representation we provide as well as the ongoing relationships we can build with the families and the communities.

Families and individuals seek out those who are able to offer empathy and legal knowledge when it comes to estate planning and future preparation. Christine Matus and the Matus Law Group's gifted team of estate planning lawyers are proud of their ability to accomplish this goal and make a positive difference in their clients' lives.
