Roofing Company Near Me Deerfield Beach is a Southeastern Florida business that has always been known for its quality roof replacement services. This is true whether the company is working closer to its Deerfield Beach office or over in Fort Lauderdale or elsewhere throughout Broward County. The exceptional craftsmanship that the company crews display combined with some very good customer service has led them to receive many rave reviews on their roof replacement projects. Something that the company spokesperson, Alonso Rivas, pointed out was a huge source of pride for everyone at the company.

Rivas says, "We are fortunate here at Roofing Company Near Me Deerfield Beach to have very talented and experienced roofing personnel leading us in every aspect of our business. Our company is also one that treats our customers with courtesy and when we promise them something on a new roof project, we make sure that we deliver on that promise. It's this comprehensive approach that we take with our whole-house roof replacement work that has led us to be very well-reviewed by our roof replacement customers. We could not possibly be prouder than when after we re-roof a home, a customer leaves a review that states we satisfied them in all areas of that project."

These 5-star reviews are typical of the accolades this company receives on its roof replacement Fort Lauderdale services. Olive Bowen stated, "Roofing Company Near Me Deerfield Beach did an excellent job! I received great service starting from the initial call to the office to the providing of a quote and the roof installation. They were professional and provided high-quality work. I definitely would recommend this company to anyone who needs their roof replaced." Belen Stanback wrote, "The roofing work that was done for me was carried out professionally and performed to very high standards. Any contact with the office was professionally dealt with. This gave me an indication that they were a professionally run company and that has been shown to be true. I am very pleased with their work and the way we were treated as the customer."

Rivas went on to say that when they at the company first talk to someone about doing roof replacement Fort Lauderdale, the whole process starts with a thorough roof inspection. One of their experienced techs will get up on the roof and walk the entire length and width of it. They will check for such things as raised or depressed areas in the roof that may indicate a hidden sheathing problem and also check common leak-prone areas to see if these areas need extra attention during the process of putting on a new roof. He added that they will even check the roof for proper venting so the new shingles or other roofing material they cover the roof with will last as long as it's supposed to. When discussing with a customer about putting on a new roof free estimates are also the norm for this company. The company representative stated that their customers can also expect an estimate that is accurate and outlines even the smaller details of the job. He feels their Fort Lauderdale and Broward County customers appreciate the fact that they will not get any hidden charges with their final bill.

The company spokesperson also gave some insight as to how they carry out each roof replacement project that they take on. This starts with the removal of the old roof covering material and the insulating layer of underlayment that is found underneath. At this point, he says the crew will do a secondary roof inspection of the structural components of the roof to find any wood sheathing or other problems that were hard to determine during the original roof inspection. Once this has been done any problems corrected, they will then go about putting down a completely new layer of insulating underlayment followed by new shingles or the customer's other roof material of choice. Rivas says that before finishing the project, they will make sure that all chimneys, roof vents, and other roof protrusions are thoroughly sealed up, and then the project is not considered complete until a detailed cleanup of the customer's yard has been done. This is the company's recipe for success when it comes to their roof replacement services and the reviews that they receive on this work certainly back that up.
