August 18, 2021 -
Personal injury law firm Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. Attorneys At Law is offering legal resources to help victims who are suffering from injuries sustained in automobile accidents across Georgia. The law firm has offices in Albany, Atlanta, Augusta, Columbus, Duluth, Macon, Savannah, and Valdosta.

In 2019, the total number of registered motor vehicles in the United States reached 276 million. Given the essential role of cars and vehicles in the American way of life, it is only a matter of time before everyone that enjoys the luxury of driving a vehicle ends up in a fender bender. Most of the accidents are minor and the victims can get away with negotiating the cost of repairs with the insurance company. However, in more severe cases, the driver and occupants of the vehicle can suffer from lasting injuries and, in some tragic cases, death. The law office of Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. says that Georgia experiences around 150,000 car accident-related injuries every year, which results in around 1500 deaths. This equates to a mortality rate of approximately 1%.

When the automobile accidents are more severe and the victims have suffered life-altering injuries, the injured party has to go to great lengths to ensure they are fully compensated for their suffering. The insurance company representing the party at fault will always try to shrug off its client?s responsibility in the accident. The insurance company may even go as far as blaming the victim for the accident. It is, therefore, essential to have an experienced personal injury attorney in one?s corner when fighting to get a fair settlement. An experienced attorney will help the victim strengthen their case and foil the machinations of those representing the party at fault.

In most cases, a preoccupied, negligent driver that is impaired or callous in their attitude while operating a vehicle is the primary reason for a car accident. Some common causes include impairment due to the consumption of alcohol and other illicit substances, speeding, reckless driving, and distracted driving. An experienced personal injury attorney will clearly highlight the evidence that unequivocally proves the fault of the negligent driver.

A spokesperson for the law firm talks about its approach to helping victims of automobile accidents by saying, ?It is very tempting to take the first offer that the offending party?s insurance company makes to you. It can seem logical to take that initial offer and move on with your life, putting the memory of the accident behind you. However, as we have learned through our extensive experience defending victims of automobile accidents, the insurance company will try to lowball you and offer you a pittance that does not make up for the pain and suffering that you have been through. When you avail of our services, we will guide you in the process of collecting evidence and creating a rock-solid case that helps you get the highest possible settlement. We will create an exhaustive list of expenses that you are going to face as an accident victim such as current and future medical bills, loss of income due to recuperation, damage to property such as car repairs, and many more. This meticulous preparation increases the likelihood that you, as a victim, are going to get what you are due. So if you are suffering from an automobile injury due to someone else?s fault, give the law office of Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. Attorneys At Law a call. Your case will get the care and attention that it needs. Just one consultation with us and you will find out why Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. is the best personal injury attorney Augusta, Georgia has to offer.?
