August 25, 2021 -
Kenneth S. Nugent P.C. is regarded by many as the best personal injury attorney Duluth GA has to offer. His law firm defends victims fighting personal injury cases such as vehicle accidents or car wrecks, truck or tractor-trailer accidents, mass transit accidents, medical malpractice, wrongful death, workers compensation claims, defective products, dangerous property, insurance company bad faith claims, and nursing home abuse.

The law firm is urging victims of personal injury cases to refer to legal counsel before talking to the insurance company of the party at fault. According to the law firm, insurance companies are stacked with highly paid lawyers that are experts in spinning narratives that downplay the role that their clients played in an accident. This is logical as the lawyers are always trying to minimize the cost of the settlement or payout for the insurance company that they are representing.

A spokesperson for the law firm talks about the methods used by insurance companies by saying, ?They will begin by making you a lowball offer that doesn?t even remotely cover the medical bills, lost salaries due to hospitalization, and cost of physical therapy that you might require in the future. They will always try to coerce you into accepting the offer by making it seem like that is the best settlement that you can get and there is no point in pursuing any further legal action. As someone who has just been through a possibly life-altering accident, you might be tempted to take what they are offering. However, once you accept the settlement, you are going to forgo the right to any further compensation for expenses that you might have in the future.?

The spokesperson then expounds on the importance of having an experienced attorney representing a victim by saying, ?An experienced attorney will see through the strong-arming of the insurance company and will help you determine whether the offer they are making is fair. This information will give you the power to realize when you are being taken for a ride and help you firmly say no to their outrageously meager initial offer. Once we have entered negotiations, we will help you build a case that squarely places the blame at the foot of the driver who was not following traffic rules, or driving while incapacitated, or distracted. We know where to look to find the evidence that will tilt the scales in your favor. So the next time you are in an accident and need help to get back on your feet, think of Kenneth S. Nugent P.C. Attorneys At Law. We will listen to your case and negotiate with the insurance companies on your behalf. Our talented team of lawyers will make sure that you are duly compensated for the pain and suffering that you?ve been through due to someone else?s careless actions.?
