Makeup Brush Set Company Urges Consumers Against Purchasing Counterfeit Products

Missame LLC, a Sacramento, California based cosmetics company, has issued a warning to consumers regarding their makeup brush set. Amy Ng, owner of Missame, has warned consumers against purchasing counterfeit makeup brush sets from sources other than the official company. Amy Ng points out, "We wanted to let customers know that if they come across a brush set from sources, such as eBay or Amazon, and the seller is not Missame LLC, then these are not our official brush sets."

The company explained that they do not have an official eBay account, and that they wanted to inform consumers that the products they are receiving are not authentic if they got them through eBay. "Make sure that the products are sold by Missame and fulfilled by Amazon," Amy Ng explains. "This means consumers need to ensure that the list price is the one provided for official Missame products, and that the products are purchased through our official Amazon product listing page."

All Missame products come with a 100 percent satisfaction guarantee. The company has recently begun giving away the eBook, "Looking Fabulous - Makeup Tips and Fundamentals" free with every makeup brush set purchase. Amy Ng states that this is another way to ensure that the products ordered are official Missame products.

She explains that the company cannot honor their 100 percent guarantee and other perks if the products purchased are not authentic. And even if the makeup sets that are being sold by other sellers on eBay are real, they are considered to be used and there will be no guarantee in place for beauty tools that are sold as used.

To combat this, the company is planning its own e-commerce web store in the future. Amy Ng states that her company has always has their customers' best interests in mind and she encourages consumers to purchase directly from the company on Amazon. Those interested can visit Missame LLC's official Amazon seller's page at http://www.amazon.com/s?marketplaceID=ATVPDKIKX0DER&me=A1TU62K6T60Z0F&merchant=A1TU62K6T60Z0F&redirect=true.

If there is a question about a product, customers are urged to contact Missame LLC to verify whether or not that product is authentic and will fall under the company's official guarantee.
